Red Antimissile Missile Report Doubted by U.S.

System Too Complex
For Perfection Now,
Yank Experts Explain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed U.S. officials believe the Russians still are a long way from achieving a combat ready antimissile-missile system.

They are not disputing that the Russians may have developed an antimissile rocket, as Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed Tuesday. But they stress that development of such a rocket is only part—and not the most difficult part—of the problem of fashioning a complete antimissile system, with its associated radar and other highly sensitive and complex gear.

One of the biggest problems—as the United States has found in its work with the Nike Zeus antimissile system—is to perfect radar that can discriminate between oncoming warheads and decoys sent out by an enemy to confuse and foil the defenses.

One official familiar with intelligence reports said the Russians have been employing large numbers of fairly powerful radar units, but that this radar is believed able to reach no higher than perhaps 100,000 feet and apparently is part of defenses against manned bombers.

He said there is no information here to indicate the Russians have developed an operational warhead, as distinguished from a research and test model.

It is known that the Russians last September exploded high above earth a nuclear test device that had some of the characteristics of an antimissile weapon.

President Kennedy, in a broad east four months ago, announcing plans to resume U.S. nuclear testing in the atmosphere, said the Soviet test series last fall was aimed, in part, at "improving their defenses against missiles."

But, he added: "While apparently seeking information which is important in developing an antimissile defense system, these tests do not, in our judgment, reflect a developed system."

The information Kennedy said the Russians appeared to be seeking was believed to involve the effects of nuclear blasts on radar and communications.

U.S. scientists were looking for similar information in detonating a hydrogen device more than 200 miles above the Pacific last Sunday night.

Defense Department sources said evaluation of the results of that high altitude shot are not expected for perhaps 48 hours. How much information will be made public is not known.

Algeria Chiefs Say Showdown Is in Offing

ALGIERS (AP)—A collapse of talks to heal a leadership split in the new Algerian nation and prospects of a showdown between Premier Ben Youssef ben Khedda and Deputy Premier Ahmed ben Bella produced signs of nervousness here today.

Apparently backed by the bulk of the 45,000-man National Army of Liberation, Ben Bella planned a triumphant advance into western Algeria from Rabat, Morocco, where talks with Ben Khedda's emissaries broke down early today.

A vanguard of 2,000 troops of the liberation army, with Soviet-built artillery, was moving to Oran, in western Algeria, the nation's second largest city. A big victory parade was planned in advance of Ben Bella's arrival there Thursday, apparently to demonstrate his popularity. Then the leader, who advocates a Socialist revolution in Algeria, will address a mass meeting.

Ben Bella, it appeared, counted upon a procession of triumph from his entry at Marnia, his birthplace on the Moroccan border, to Tiemcen, where he planned to stay tonight, and on to Oran and perhaps Algiers.

No new amity talks were scheduled in Rabat.

Restoration of Monarchy Seen Coming Soon in Spain

MADRID (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco has designated Spain's highest ranking soldier as his official successor and shuffled his Cabinet in a predicted prelude to political and economic reform.

Many experts here described the move as directed toward an early restoration of the monarchy in Spain.

By naming Capt. Gen. Augustin Munoz Grandes, 66, as vice president of the 69-year-old chief of state cleared up the long-pending question of who will succeed him if he dies.

Munoz Grandes has been chairman of the high military staff since 1957. Before that he was army minister for six years. He was secretary-general of the Falange party in 1939, and was an outstanding officer during the Spanish civil war.

A close associate of Franco in his 25 years of rule, Munoz Grandes commanded the Spanish Blue Division that fought alongside Nazi German troops on the Russian front in World War II.

Francisco's decree appointing Munoz Grandes said he will continue to act as general commander of the high staff.

It added he will be charged with the coordination of the national defense departments and will carry out those functions he is expressly ordered by the president of the government, whom he will replace in case of vacancy, absence or illness.

Seven new ministers were named in the first Cabinet changes Franco had made since Feb. 25, 1957.

There are indications that Kennedy himself may seek to mediate a Senate-House dispute over their handling which has prevented final action on any of the regular military bills.

Hinting at this, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Tuesday that some drastic measures had better be taken to end a stalemate in which he said Democrats are digging their political graves.

"Every week that this goes on, you can count off a few more Democrats in the November election," he said. "The Republicans will make hay with this."

The Republicans already were busy cutting their hay.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said that "it is doubtful if any session of Congress in the history of the republic ever spent so much time accomplishing so little."

He and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana agreed in a statement that "most of the blame belongs on the Kennedy administration."

Regardless of who had to shoulder the responsibility, only a handful of major bills has become law in the more than six months of the session.

Another FALSE alarm. . . When Circleville Police investigated the burglar alarm at Rothmans Department Store today they discovered Ralph Grobon, the manager, had accidentally triggered the alarm when he opened the store for business.

This is getting to be a habit in Circleville. The alarm on the exposed vault of the First National Bank has signaled a false alarm two times recently.

Safety Aide Jaywalks, Winds Up in Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Well, this just proves you can't pay too much attention to safety," said a 40-year-old traffic official from his hospital bed. He was struck by an auto while jaywalking near the city's busiest intersection Tuesday. James Mason of Winnipeg, Man., here to attend a safety conference, was cited for crossing about 20 feet from the Broad and High intersection. Mason, a hearing officer on traffic violations in Winnipeg, was listed in fair condition at Grant Hospital.

U.S. Student Goes on East German Trial

BERLIN (AP)—Robert Mann, an American university student, went on trial behind closed doors today.

Mann, 19, is charged with violating an East German law which carries a penalty of from one to 15 years hard labor for anyone "luring" people from the Red-ruled state to the West.

Pale but composed, Mann appeared in court with Uwe Sturberg, 25, an East Berliner. Sturberg's role in the trial was not made known.

After Mann and Sturberg had given their identifications, the judges announced that "for state security reasons, the public is excluded from the trial."

The student's father, Charles Mann of Sepulveda, Calif., Frank Meehan, a U.S. mission official from West Berlin and three Western reporters filed out of the courtroom.

Wearing a dark tweed jacket and slacks, Robert Mann answered the judge's questions on his identity clearly but somewhat nervously. His face showed the pangs of almost six months of confinement. He was arrested in East Berlin last Jan. 22.

Mann had been studying at Beutelsbach near Stuttgart, where Stanford University of Palo Alto, Calif., has its "Stanford in Germany" program.

The senator cited increases varying from 32 1/2 per cent to 106 per cent in four welfare and education programs in the last five years, and said aid for public schools has risen to $331,346,000 in that period. This latter expenditure, he said, increased 32 1/2 per cent while school enrollment increased only 2 1/4 per cent.

Mechem said the legislature gave DiSalle $604,164 for operation of the Training Institute of Central Ohio, which has 96 inmates, averaging $6,750 for each boy committed to the Columbus institution. "We could have sent them to Hot Springs for less than that," Mechem commented.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has sent out invitations to non-Catholic churches and church federations to send observers to its Ecumenical Council starting here Oct. 11.

Protestant observers never before have been invited to a worldwide gathering of the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

A Vatican spokesman declined today to say how many observers are being asked to attend or what churches had been invited.

In Geneva Tuesday night, the World Council of Churches, the Lutheran World Federation and the World Presbyterian Alliance announced receipt of invitations. They were asked to submit names of the observers by the end of June — "one or two" from the World Council, "two or three" from the Presbyterian Alliance.

Priorities OK'd On Grants for Sewage Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Priorities for federal grants to assist in construction of sewage treatment projects have been announced by the Ohio Department of Health.

The priorities are for the fiscal year which began July 1. Actual grants will be made by the U.S. Public Health Service. While Congress has not yet appropriated funds for this year's grants, it adopted authorizations last year. If followed, they will be sufficient to cover all of the Ohio requests approved by the Water Pollution Control Board.

Grant requests total $2,853,994. The priorities are set by the pollution control board on a basis of need.

In order of top priority, the subdivisions approved for the grants, the estimated total costs of their projects and the grant requests are:

British viewers stayed up late for the great event of instantaneous television from abroad, with the brief reward coming after 1 a. m.

Telstar's first feats were a prodigious demonstration of things to come in a future worldwide satellite communications system to meet mounting demands for telephone, news, business, and television circuits spanning oceans and continents.

Praising this joint venture of private industry and government—American Telephone & Telegraph Co. footed the entire $4 million cost of building, launching and tracking Telstar—Newton Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, remarked:

"Now we have increased opportunity to increase the flow of information among all nations, to surmount the walls of ignorance and prejudice and to use mass communications hopefully to avoid mass destruction."

Telstar was designed and built by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Only for 12 to 15 minutes on some of its orbits each day will Telstar be in line of sight vision between Europe and Maine to permit television exchange.

But one plan calls for launching a series of 30 to 50 similar repeater satellites, so that one or more always would be in position for relay of television, telephone calls, photo or story and message transmission.

Ultimately, the instantaneous, continuous circuits might be provided by three satellites, orbiting 23,500 miles high so they appear to remain stationary over the same points on earth. Telstar's task is first to prove the capabilities, and help determine what problems still lie ahead.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today set up a new U.S.-Soviet exploratory talk in the long search for a Berlin settlement formula. He made a date to see Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin late Thursday.

Agreement on the new meeting, which Rusk initiated, became known in the wake of a new public proposal by Premier Nikita Khrushchev for withdrawal of U.S., British and French forces from West Berlin and their substitution by Allied and Communist small-nation troops under the United Nations flag.

But State Department officials said that the discussion set for 3 p. m. EST Thursday was not suggested by Rusk because of the Khrushchev speech.

It was rather that the Kennedy administration believes it is important to maintain regular U.S.-Soviet contact on the Berlin dispute. The State Department had already issued a statement Tuesday branding Khrushchev's troop proposal as unacceptable.

Actually, the Rusk-Dobrynin meeting is considered here to be preliminary to a probable meeting in the next week or 10 days between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on the Berlin situation.

Both the U.S. and Soviet foreign policy directors are due in Geneva at that time to sign final accords on the neutralization of Laos—assuming that present negotiations succeed in producing agreement by then. The present prospect is that Rusk will fly to Geneva late next week, but his plans are not yet firm.

Rusk probably will tell Dobrynin again Thursday that the United States has no intention, nor do Britain and France, of removing the Western protective garrisons from Berlin.

Officials said that it is impossible to see how any kind of East-West agreement on Berlin can be developed so long as the main thrust of Soviet policy is directed to getting Western forces out of the city or, alternatively, getting a new Communist foothold there through the introduction of Soviet or other Red forces.

American Chatterbox Moon Provides New Eyes, Ears

NEW YORK (AP)—Telstar, America's chatterbox new satellite, zoomed through lonely space today on its pioneering mission to bring the world a new voice, ears and eyes.

In triumphant baptism Tuesday night, it sent television pictures spanning the Atlantic to France and England, as well as into U.S. homes. It relayed a telephone call from Maine to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson in Washington as loud and clear as the best of local calls.

Then for an encore, the versatile Telstar—only a yard wide—simultaneously transmitted news stories at a 1,000-word-a-minute clip, relayed photographs perfectly and supplied two-way telephone calls with perfect aplomb from a 3,000-mile height in space.

Remarkably clear television pictures were received in France, and were to be relayed by tape into French homes today.

The nation's three television networks say an effort will be made tonight to receive a French TV transmission via Telstar.

The networks said they would stand by a 6 p. m. (EST) for the attempted pickup, and that if it is successful it will be transmitted "live" to U.S. viewers.

A Paris dispatch said this would include a song by Yves Montand several views of Paris, and a message from Jacques Marete, French communications minister.

In Britain, faint and fleeting pictures were picked up as Telstar received, amplified and re-radiated the program beamed into space from a powerful horn antenna in the little town of Andover, Maine. The first telecast via space opened with a view of the American flag rippling in the breeze.

Government Doubts It Will Be Influenced

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Thousands of citizens from all parts of Saskatchewan converged on this provincial capital today for a demonstration against the government's compulsory medical care plan.

Leaders of the protest move expressed confidence there would be no violence, but some officials indicated concern by issuing appeals for calm and restraint.

Cavalades were expected from all leading cities and towns. Estimates of the number of persons taking part ran as high as 20,000 to 30,000. They planned to make before the provincial legislative building to voice opposition to the medicare plan.

The demonstration is sponsored by the Keep Our Doctors Committee, most vocal group backing the doctors strike which began July 1.

A majority of the province's 700 active physicians have joined in the strike against the controversial plan, claiming it opens the door for government control of the medical profession.

The plan, designed to provide medical care for everyone, is financed by single person and family assessments and by general taxation.

Premier Woodrow Lloyd said he would not appear before the demonstrators, but that he would receive a small delegation if they asked to be heard.

Lloyd said he believed he could make "a pretty astute guess" as to what their message would be. "I don't think the government is going to be influenced by this kind of demonstration," the premier said.

Nine British doctors arrived from London Tuesday night to fill vacancies created by the doctors strike. Officials said at least two dozen more doctors from Britain were due here later this week.

Earlier appeals from the government were answered by 11 other doctors from Britain, two (Continued on Page 2)

Unintended Humor Displayed by Boys Writing to Mom

WESTPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Once again it's summer camp time, and to many a lad there's nothing like it—even if he does miss his mom, forget to take his trunk key and is kept awake by another guy snoring.

At Camp Dudley on Lake Champlain, an institution affiliated with the Young Men's Christian Association and America's oldest camp for boys, officials couldn't resist taking a peek at the first postcards sent home by the youngsters.

They quickly culled these bits of unintended humor, with spellings per author:

"The trip was horrible. I'm having fun already."

"Please send my trunk keys and my duffle bag key. And hurry, hurry, hurry."

"Dear Mom: I am feeling great O.K. Except I miss a few people. One happens to be you."

2,000 Alien Students Cheer President at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 2,000 foreign students shouted, cheered and practically mobbed President Kennedy on the White House south lawn today.

When he finished speaking to the high school students from 50 countries, Kennedy moved to shake hands with some of those nearest him.

The students broke through restraining ropes and completely engulfed the President, fighting to touch him or shake hands.

Secret Service agents had to use their shoulders to clear a path so Kennedy could get back into the White House.

One unidentified girl student, caught in the crush, fainted and two White House policemen came to her rescue. She was quickly revived and rejoined her group.

The cheering started when Kennedy appeared and continued until he had disappeared.

The foreign students are from 50 countries scattered around the world and are sponsored by the American Field Service, a private educational organization. They are high-school seniors who have spent a year in this country and have lived with American families. They soon will return home.

Kennedy told them he hoped they will serve in a sense as a bridge between their countries and the United States.

"We are endeavoring as a nation to establish a more happy society and assist others around the world to move forward and upward," Kennedy said. "That is the United States objective."

Rusk To Make Fresh Effort To Get Red Accord on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today set up a new U.S.-Soviet exploratory talk in the long search for a Berlin settlement formula. He made a date to see Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin late Thursday.

India Accuses Red China of New Thrust

NEW DELHI (AP)—India accused Red China Tuesday night of a new aggressive thrust onto Indian soil in Ladakh and warned Peiping it will be held wholly responsible if a shooting war results.

Prime minister Nehru, from his vacation spot in Pahlgam, Kashmir, dictated the final contents of a protest note handed to the Communist Chinese embassy here.

The note charged nearly 400 Chinese soldiers penetrated the Galwan Valley in the China-Ladakh border area Tuesday and encircled the Indian military post there.

If the Chinese overrun the post, it would make the sixth Red military base, by India's count, set up in the disputed border area since 1960.

A note last Sunday from Peiping to the Indian government charged that the Indians had established a post in the Calwan area to isolate a Chinese post in the lower reaches of the Shyok River.

An Indian reply said the Chinese were nowhere in the valley when they sent the note and added that they had no business to be there.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The business community will get a billion-dollar tax cut Thursday when the Treasury puts into effect liberalized guidelines for the depreciation of investments in plant and equipment.

The new guides, the product of efforts which began during the Eisenhower administration and were accelerated a year ago, will be announced tonight.

In essence, they will reduce the length of time during which businesses can claim tax deductions to cover their capital investments. The guides now in force were established 20 years ago and have long been considered obsolete.

Under the old system, businesses had to decide the useful life of each individual type of equipment or property in figuring annual depreciation deductions. The new system will lay down an average useful life for all the kinds of plant and equipment used in each industry. This should spare businessmen considerable book-keeping and make it easier for the Internal Revenue Service to administer the tax laws.

Red Antimissile Missile Report Doubled by U.S.

System Too Complex For Perfection Now, Yank Experts Explain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed U.S. officials believe the Russians still are a long way from achieving a combat ready antimissile-missile system.

They are not disputing that the Russians may have developed an antimissile rocket, as Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed Tuesday. But they stress that development of such a rocket is only part—and not the most difficult part—of the problem of fashioning a complete antimissile system, with its associated radar and other highly sensitive and complex gear.

One of the biggest problems—as the United States has found in its work with the Nike Zeus antimissile system—is to perfect radar that can discriminate between oncoming warheads and decoys sent out by an enemy to confuse and foil the defenses.

One official familiar with intelligence reports said the Russians have been emplacing large numbers of fairly powerful radar units, but that this radar is believed able to reach no higher than perhaps 100,000 feet and apparently is part of defenses against manned bombers.

He said there is no information here to indicate the Russians have developed an operational warhead, as distinguished from a research and test model.

It is known that the Russians last September exploded high above earth a nuclear test device that had some of the characteristics of an antimissile weapon.

President Kennedy, in a broad cast four months ago, announcing plans to resume U.S. nuclear testing in the atmosphere, said the Soviet test series last fall was aimed, in part, at "improving their defenses against missiles."

But, he added: "While apparently seeking information which is important in developing an antimissile defense system, these tests do not, in our judgment, reflect a developed system."

The information Kennedy said the Russians appeared to be seeking was believed to involve the effects of nuclear blasts on radar and communications.

U.S. scientists were looking for similar information in detonating a hydrogen device more than 200 miles above the Pacific last Sunday night.

Defense Department sources said evaluation of the results of that high altitude shot are not expected for perhaps 48 hours. How much information will be made public is not known.

Algeria Chiefs Say Showdown Is in Offing

ALGIERS (AP)—A collapse of talks to heal a leadership split in the new Algerian nation and prospects of a showdown between Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella produced signs of nervousness here today.

Apparently backed by the bulk of the 45,000-man National Army of Liberation, Ben Bella planned a triumphant advance into western Algeria from Rabat, Morocco, where talks with Ben Khedda's emissaries broke down early today.

A vanguard of 2,000 troops of the liberation army, with Soviet-built artillery, was moving to Oran, in western Algeria, the nation's second largest city. A big victory parade was planned in advance of Ben Bella's arrival there Thursday, apparently to demonstrate his popularity. Then the leader, who advocates a Socialist revolution in Algeria, will address a mass meeting.

Ben Bella, it appeared, counted upon a procession of triumph from his entry at Marnia, his birthplace on the Moroccan border, to Tlemcen, where he planned to stay tonight, and on to Oran and perhaps Algiers.

No new amity talks were scheduled in Rabat.

Munoz Grandes has been chairman of the high military staff since 1957. Before that he was army minister for six years. He was secretary-general of the Falange party in 1939, and was an outstanding officer during the Spanish civil war.

A close associate of Franco in his 25 years of rule, Munoz Grandes commanded the Spanish Blue Division that fought alongside Nazi German troops on the Russian front in World War II.

Franco's decree appointing Munoz Grandes said he will continue to act as general commander of the high staff.

It added he will be charged with the coordination of the national defense departments and will carry out those functions he is expressly ordered by the president of the government, whom he will replace in case of vacancy, absence or illness.

Seven new ministers were named in the first Cabinet changes Franco had made since Feb. 25, 1957.

U.S. Student Goes on East German Trial

BERLIN (AP)—Robert Mann, an American university student, went on trial behind closed doors today.

Mann, 19, is charged with violating an East German law which carries a penalty of from one to 15 years' labor for anyone "luring" people from the Red-ruled state to the West.

Pale but composed, Mann appeared in court with Ute Sturberg, 25, an East Berliner. Sturberg's role in the trial was not made known.

After Mann and Sturberg had given their identifications, the judges announced that "for state security reasons, the public is excluded from the trial."

The student's father, Charles Mann of Sepulveda, Calif., Frank Meehan, a U.S. mission official from West Berlin and three Western reporters filed out of the courtroom.

Wearing a dark tweed jacket and slacks, Robert Mann answered the judge's questions on his identity clearly but somewhat nervously. His face showed the pain of almost six months of confinement. He was arrested in East Berlin last Jan. 22.

Mann had been studying at Beutelsbach near Stuttgart, where Stanford University of Palo Alto, Calif., has its "Stanford in Germany" program.

Protestants Get Catholic Invitation

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has sent out invitations to non-Catholic churches and church federations to send observers to its Ecumenical Council starting here Oct. 11.

Protestant observers never before have been invited to a worldwide gathering of the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

A Vatican spokesman declined today to say how many observers are being asked to attend or what churches had been invited.

In Geneva Tuesday night, the World Council of Churches, the Lutheran World Federation and the World Presbyterian Alliance announced receipt of invitations. They were asked to submit names of the observers by the end of June — "one or two" from the World Council, "two or three" from the Presbyterian Alliance.

Enough Money Given DiSalle, Mechem Says

NELSONVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Republican majority leader of the Ohio Senate says Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has been given enough money by the legislature for welfare and other programs.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, addressing a meeting of the Athens County Young Republican Club here Tuesday night, charged that the governor has not spent enough time to get his administrators to do the job they should be doing.

The senator cited increases varying from 32 1/2 per cent to 106 per cent in four welfare and education programs in the last five years, and said aid for public schools has risen to $331,346,900 in that period. This latter expenditure, he said, increased 32 1/2 per cent while school enrollment increased only 21 1/2 per cent.

Mechem said the legislature gave DiSalle $604,164 for operation of the Training Institute of Central Ohio, which has 96 inmates, averaging $6,750 for each boy committed to the Columbus institution. "We could have sent them to Hot Springs for less than that," Mechem commented.

Dog 'Talks' on Phone, Mistress Is Located

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After phoning several dog pounds in search of her lost pet Tuesday, Donna Hurley found one that answered the description.

"Just put him on the phone," Mrs. Hurley said to the startled attendant.

A few words from the woman, the kennelman recounted later, and "the dog went crazy. He jumped around and yelped. He's her dog, all right."

American Chatterbox Moon Provides New Eyes, Ears

NEW YORK (AP)—Telstar, America's chatterbox new satellite, zoomed through lonely space today on its pioneering mission to bring the world a new voice, ears and eyes.

In triumphant baptism Tuesday night, it sent television pictures spanning the Atlantic to France and England, as well as into U.S. homes. It relayed a telephone call from Maine to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson in Washington as loud and clear as the best of local calls.

Then for an encore, the versatile Telstar—only a yard wide—simultaneously transmitted news stories at a 1,000-word-a-minute clip, relayed photographs perfectly and supplied two-way telephone calls with perfect aplomb from a 3,000-mile height in space.

Remarkably clear television pictures were received in France, and were to be relayed by tape into French homes today.

The nation's three television networks say an effort will be made tonight to receive a French TV transmission via Telstar.

The networks said they would stand by a 6 p.m. (EST) for the attempted pickup, and that if it is successful it will be transmitted "live" to U.S. viewers.

A Paris dispatch said this would include a song by Yves Montand, several views of Paris, and a message from Jacques Marette, French communications minister.

In Britain, faint and fleeting pictures were picked up as Telstar received, amplified and re-radiated the program beamed into space from a powerful horn antenna in the little town of Andover, Maine. The first telecast via space opened with a view of the American flag rippling in the breeze.

British viewers stayed up late for the great event of instantaneous television from abroad, with the brief reward coming after 1 a.m.

Telstar's first feats were a prodigious demonstration of things to

Area Man Dies Of Injuries in Rt. 22 Crash

A Circleville Twp. man was fatally injured in the blazing wreckage of an auto-truck crash early this morning on Route 22, about two miles west of Amanda.

Telstar To Reduce Oversea Call Costs

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. spent $4 million to put the Telstar satellite into working orbit.

So Tuesday night when a vice president picked up a telephone to place a call via the satellite, a Bell telephone operator coolly suggested: "Deposit four million dollars, please."

Ultimately, telephone calls to foreign lands via communications satellites will probably cost less for three minutes, officials predict, than present tolls—$12.50 for three minutes—to European cities via submarine cables.

come in a future worldwide satellite communications system to meet mounting demands for telephone, news, business, and television circuits spanning oceans and continents.

Trailing this joint venture of private industry and government—American Telephone & Telegraph Co. footed the entire $4 million cost of building, launching and tracking Telstar—Newton Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, remarked:

"Now we have increased opportunity to increase the flow of information among all nations, to surmount the walls of ignorance and prejudice and to use mass communications hopefully to avoid mass destruction."

Telstar was designed and built by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Only for 12 to 15 minutes on some of its orbits each day will Telstar be in line of sight vision between Europe and Maine to permit television exchange.

But one plan calls for launching a series of 30 to 50 similar repeater satellites, so that one or more always would be in position for relay of television, telephone calls, photo or story and message transmission.

Ultimately, the instantaneous, continuous circuits might be provided by three satellites, orbiting 23,500 miles high so they appear to remain stationary over the same points on earth. Telstar's task is first to prove the capabilities, and help determine what problems still lie ahead.

Rusk To Make Fresh Effort To Get Red Accord on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today set up a new U.S.-Soviet exploratory talk in the long search for a Berlin settlement formula. He made a date to see Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin late Thursday.

Agreement on the new meeting, which Rusk initiated, became known in the wake of a new public proposal by Premier Nikita Khrushchev for withdrawal of U.S. British and French forces from West Berlin and their substitution by Allied and Communist small-nation troops under the United Nations flag.

But State Department officials said that the discussion set for 3 p.m. EST Thursday was not suggested by Rusk because of the Khrushchev speech.

It was rather that the Kennedy administration believes it is important to maintain regular U.S.-Soviet contact on the Berlin dispute. The State Department had already issued a statement Tuesday branding Khrushchev's troop proposal as unacceptable.

Actually, the Rusk-Dobrynin meeting is considered here to be preliminary to a probable meeting in the next week or 10 days between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on the Berlin situation.

Both the U.S. and Soviet foreign policy directors are due in Geneva next week, but his plans are not yet firm.

Rusk probably will tell Dobrynin again Thursday that the United States has no intention, nor do Britain and France, of removing the Western protective garrisons from Berlin.

Officials said that it is impossible to see how any kind of East-West agreement on Berlin can be developed so long as the main thrust of Soviet policy is directed to getting Western forces out of the city or, alternatively, getting a new Communist foothold there through the introduction of Soviet or other Red forces.

U.S. Business To Get Billion In Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The business community will get a billion-dollar tax cut Thursday when the Treasury puts into effect liberalized guidelines for the depreciation of investments in plant and equipment.

The new guidelines, the product of efforts which began during the Eisenhower administration and were accelerated a year ago, will be announced tonight.

In essence, they will reduce the length of time during which businesses can claim tax deductions to cover their capital investments. The guides now in force were established 20 years ago and have long been considered obsolete.

Under the old system, businesses had to decide the useful life of each individual type of equipment or property in figuring annual depreciation deductions. The new system will lay down an average useful life for all the kinds of plant and equipment used in each industry. This should spare businessmen considerable book-keeping and make it easier for the Internal Revenue Service to administer the tax laws.

35 Paintings Stolen

LONDON (AP)—The theft of 35 paintings valued at $700,000 from O'Hana Art Gallery in London's fashionable Mayfair District was reported today.

Government Doubts It Will Be Influenced

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Thousands of citizens from all parts of Saskatchewan converged on this provincial capital today for a demonstration against the government's compulsory medical care plan.

Leaders of the protest move expressed confidence there would be no violence, but some officials indicated concern by issuing appeals for calm and restraint.

Cavalcades were expected from all leading cities and towns. Estimates of the number of persons taking part ran as high as 20,000 to 30,000. They planned to mass before the provincial legislative building to voice opposition to the medicare plan.

The demonstration is sponsored by the Keep Our Doctors Committee, most vocal group backing the doctors strike which began July 1.

A majority of the province's 700 active physicians have joined in the strike against the controversial plan, claiming it opens the door for government control of the medical profession.

The plan, designed to provide medical care for everyone, is financed by single person and family assessments and by general taxation.

Premier Woodrow Lloyd said he would not appear before the demonstrators, but that he would receive a small delegation if they asked to be heard.

Lloyd said he believed he could make "a pretty astute guess" as to what their message would be. "I don't think the government is going to be influenced by this kind of demonstration," the premier said.

Nine British doctors arrived from London Tuesday night to fill vacancies created by the doctors strike. Officials said at least two dozen more doctors from Britain were due here later this week.

Earlier appeals from the government were answered by 11 other doctors from Britain, two (Continued on Page 2)

Unintended Humor Displayed by Boys Writing to Mom

WESTPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Once again it's summer camp time, and to many a lad there's nothing like it—even if he does miss his mom, forget to take his trunk key and is kept awake by another guy snoring.

At Camp Dudley on Lake Champlain, an institution affiliated with the Young Men's Christian Association and America's oldest camp for boys, officials couldn't resist taking a peek at the first postcards sent home by the youngsters.

They quickly culled these bits of unintended humor, with spellings per authors.

"The trip was horrible. I'm having fun already."

"Please send my trunk keys and my duffle bag key. And hurry, hurry, hurry."

"Dear Mom: I am feeling great O.K. Except I miss a few people. One happens to be you."

2,000 Alien Students Cheer President at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 2,000 foreign students shouted, cheered and practically mobbed President Kennedy on the White House south lawn today.

When he finished speaking to the high school students from 50 countries, Kennedy moved to shake hands with some of those nearest him.

The students broke through restraining ropes and completely engulfed the President, fighting to touch him or shake hands.

Secret Service agents had to use their shoulders to clear a path so Kennedy could get back into the White House.

One unidentified girl student, caught in the crush, fainted and two White House policemen came to her rescue. She was quickly revived and rejoined her group.

The cheering started when Kennedy appeared and continued until he had disappeared.

The foreign students are from 50 countries scattered around the world and are sponsored by the American Field Service, a private educational organization. They are high-school seniors who have spent a year in this country and have lived with American families.

They soon will return home. Kennedy told them he hoped they will serve in a sense as a bridge between their countries and the United States.

"We are endeavoring as a nation to establish a more happy society and assist others around the world to move forward and upward," Kennedy said. "That is the United States objective."

Westerville Explosives To Be Ignited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Army demolition specialists have notified Franklin Countians that several spectacular fires will be set off in Westerville, north of here, during the next six weeks. The first is scheduled tonight.

The scene will be eight acres of land owned by Otterbein College, the school by the defunct Kilgore Manufacturing Co.

Virgil Carpenter, civilian in charge of the U.S. Army demolition team from the Ordnance Ammunition Center, Joliet, Ill., which will do the job, explained that explosives and inflammable items were found discarded in trenches. Kilgore made fireworks, caps for toy guns and other explosives. Rejects, Otterbein discovered, were dumped in the field.

With a magnesium grenades, flares and other products involved, Carpenter said the fires will be more spectacular than nuisance, with the chemicals making colorful fires. He said he expects some small explosions, but assured that that the will be of no danger to residents of the area.

Stock Market Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly in slow trading early this afternoon after canceling much of an early decline.

Showing a minimal change, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .10 at 218.10 with industrials off .80, rail up 3.00, and utilities up .20.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so.

In early trading, the list continued to endure profit taking which followed Tuesday morning's vigorous rally on news that margin requirements had been cut to 50 per cent from 70 per cent. A number of issues firmed above their lows, however, and selected issues did quit well, among them American Telephone which was in continued demand due to the launching of its Telstar communications satellite.

Westerville Explosives To Be Ignited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Army demolition specialists have notified Franklin County that several spectacular fires will be set off in Westerville, north of here, during the next six weeks. The first is scheduled tonight.

The scene will be eight acres of land owned by Otterbein College, the school by the defunct Kilgore Manufacturing Co.

Virgil Carpenter, civilian in charge of the U.S. Army demolition team from the Ordnance Ammunition Center, Joliet, Ill., which will do the job, explained that explosives and inflammable items were found discarded in trenches.

Kilgore made fireworks, caps for toy guns and other explosives. Rejects, Otterbein discovered, were dumped in the field.

With magnesium grenades, flares and other products involved, Carpenter said the fires will be more spectacular than nuisance, with the chemicals making colorful fires. He said he expects some small explosions, but assured that that the will be of no danger to residents of the area.

Stock Market Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly in slow trading early this afternoon after canceling much of an early decline.

Showing a minimal change, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .10 at 218.10 with industrials off .80, rail up 3.00, and utilities up .20.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so.

In early trading, the list continued to endure profit taking which followed Tuesday morning's vigorous rally on news that margin requirements had been cut to 50 percent from 70 percent. A number of issues firmed above their lows, however, and selected issues did quite well, among them American Telephone which was in continued demand due to the launching of its Telstar communications satellite.

Prominent Negro Leaders Are Jailed, Face Hard Labor

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Two Negro leaders jailed in racial unrest and facing hard labor on the city streets began a 24-hour fast today.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, integration leaders, said they would neither eat nor drink during the first day of their imprisonment "in order to purify our own spirits" for the jail terms.

The two were convicted Tuesday of violating an ordinance forbidding parading without a permit. The convictions, carrying fines of $178 or 45-day jail terms, stemmed from a series of demonstrations against segregation last December.

Negroes were called to a mass meeting at Shiloh Baptist Church today to protest the jailing of King and Abernathy.

There were reports that Negroes would stage a mass march on City Hall to protest the jailing of King and Abernathy. But the Rev. Wyatt T. Walker, assistant to King, said he could not divulge the decision reached by the Negro strategy committee.

King is president and Abernathy is treasurer of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy declined to say whether he had been in touch with Georgia state or local officials in connection with King's case.

"We are looking into the matter and are following it with great interest," he said.

Police Chief Laurie Pritchett said King and Abernathy would be treated "just like any other prisoners—they will either work on the city streets or be put to work cleaning up the jail."

Pritchett mobilized his entire force and said he would jail any demonstrators.

Government

from the United States and four from other Canadian provinces.

Canadian newspapers have commented as follows on developments:

The tragedy of the conflict is that it has been carried so far lengths. It has been carried so far that it is difficult to see how it can now be settled without either breaking the back of the medical profession in Saskatchewan, or breaking the back of the C.C.F. (Co-operative Commonwealth Federation) party as a political power in that province. —The Gazette, Montreal.

The uncompromising position taken by the Saskatchewan medical profession since the Medical Care Act took effect only serves to foster more fear and tensions within the population of the province. Not content with carrying out their threatened strike action, the doctors are now attempting to throw all possible obstacles in the way of an eventual solution to the impasse. In view of the latest developments the Canadian Medical Association must bear a major responsibility for the behavior of one of its provincial affiliates. Ottawa Citizen, Ottawa.

The doctors of Saskatchewan have taken an action which is not open to any individual or any group within a democracy. They have deliberately decided to disobey a law of the province, a law duly enacted by a duly elected government of the people. Such action cannot be condoned in a law-abiding community. —The Globe and Mail, Toronto.

SUSPECTED DROWNING — Two State Highway Patrol SCUBA divers are shown here screening a portion of Scioto River yesterday in an attempt to locate the body of an Ashville man that was reported missing. (Staff Photo)

Suspected Drowning Victim Found Safe in Bed at Home

Sheriff's deputies, State Patrolmen and skindivers searched the Scioto River for nearly eight hours yesterday looking for the body of an Ashville man suspected of drowning. He was discovered later at home in bed.

The Sheriff's Department was notified yesterday that Ralph Edward Myers, 24, Ashville, had been missing since 7:30 p. m. Monday.

It was reported that he had gone fishing in the Scioto River, south of the bridge on Route 316 near South Bloomfield.

Deputies found Myers' auto near the bridge and proceeded with the investigation. A fishing rod, bait and a flash light that allegedly belonged to the "missing person" was found along the bank of the river and members of his family assumed that he had drowned.

SHERIFF Walton W. Spangler and deputies Gene Kerns and George Linder began dragging the river area where the fishing tackle was found, but without success.

State Patrolmen suggested that SCUBA divers be called on the scene for a more thorough check of the polluted river. Two divers, one from Chillicothe and another from Delaware, arrived about 3 p. m. and screened the river area for nearly two hours — again without any evidence of a drowning.

The search was called off until today. In the meantime, members of Myers' family contacted the local Red Cross Chapter and requested that his brother be returned from active duty with the US Navy at Annapolis, Md. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary of the local chapter made the proper arrangements for the sailor's return.

Early today it was discovered that the "missing person" was at home in bed. According to the Sheriff's Department he knew nothing of the incident.

Sheriff Spangler, although relieved in finding that Myers had not drowned, was rather perturbed at the situation today.

The false alarm was costly. The sheriff, two deputies, several patrolmen and two skindivers, spent nearly the entire day on the incident, in addition to the expenses of the local Red Cross Chapter in transporting Myers' brother home.

It was a victory for the committee's veteran chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who has vigorously opposed the withholding plan, and for many thousands of savers and investors who swapped senators with mail in opposition to it.

The committee gave the administration a tentative victory, however, on the other major provision in the bill—a 7 per cent investment credit as an incentive to companies to modernize their machinery and equipment.

It voted 10-7 to approve the principle of this provision, then tentatively approved some modifications. The matter will continue under discussion in the committee Thursday. Byrd also strongly opposed this section.

2 Muskingum Boys Are Object of Hunt
ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies and volunteers are continuing their search in the hills of southwestern Muskingum County for two boys missing from their home at Ironspot since Sunday night. The boys are Ricky Smita, 13, and his brother, Larry, 12.

Their parents believe the boys became lost while on a hike through a strip mine area.

Narcotics Problem

The U. S. Supreme Court voided a California law which made drug addiction a crime on unusual grounds — a declaration that the law constituted cruel and unusual punishment.

Unfortunately, the court cannot take the next logical step, which would be to implement the decision that addiction is a disease rather than a crime. So the ruling does nothing to solve California's problems with drug addicts.

The medical approach has not been tried on a large scale in this country. Britain, which has a tightly regulated medical system for addicts, has just 350 reported addicts. The U. S. has 45,000. But no direct comparison between Britain and the United States can be made; the two countries are too diverse.

But the heart of the British system — attempting cures for curable addicts and providing maintenance doses of narcotics for the incurables — short-circuits the two greatest evils of addiction: the addict is not compelled to turn to crime to support his habit; and the profit in narcotics sales is doing away with, removing the drug peddler's incentive to hook new addicts.

A Weaning Process

Emergency measures taken by the Canadian government and announced two weeks ago have accomplished their immediate purpose. Pressure on the Canadian dollar in the exchange markets has been relieved as quickly as a neurosurgeon can relieve pressure on the brain.

The Canadian dollar crisis has been weathered and without use of any borrowed funds or standby credits from the International Monetary Fund and elsewhere.

That in itself is a reassuring vote of confidence in the basic soundness of the Canadian economy and its industrial potential. But no one will suggest that anything done so far has offered a solution to the basic problem. It has merely created a climate in which solutions can be found.

There are no arbitrary controls, merely a temporary measure increasing tariffs and a promise of less government spending. The rest has been left to Canadian industry and to the Canadian worker and consumer.

The tariff protection while it lasts provides the opportunity for greater Canadian production and increased productivity. The drop in government spending on government works — perhaps the most important step of all — leaves greater resources to be channeled into private investment

Remarks To Irk Weekend Host

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks by weekend guests from the city that annoy suburban hosts and hostesses:

"Boy, are we glad to get here! When you said you lived at the edge of nowhere, we thought you were kidding."

"The trouble with drinking martinis in the country is that, when they run out of vermouth, you're never quite sure they don't go on to DDT."

"Obviously they can't live this way on what he earns. She must have money of her own."

"They say that between driving her husband to and from the station, chauffeuring her kids to and from school, and slaving over a hot bridge table all afternoon, she hardly has time left except to take a nap now and then."

"Is it a barn they converted into a house—or was it the other way around?"

"No, Ella and I don't like our steaks cooked outdoors over charcoal, Malcolm. But don't mind about us."

"I love Melanie's choice of rural decor. Just what is the period—early American disaster?"

"Would the children mind too much if we switched to 'Perry Mason'?" Charlie says he can't sleep without it."

"Ella's cousin and her husband dropped into town unexpectedly. We should have phoned you, but I know that with all the space you have out here, you wouldn't mind if we just brought them along."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street says the average margin trader is a bull at heart. Bears also can use margins to sell short — that is, use credit when betting that prices will go down.

But the average margin trader uses credit to buy more stocks than his available cash would buy because he expects them to go up in price. And that is an underlying, if unacknowledged, reason in lowering margins when the bulls are downhearted.

Now the bull (if he has regained his courage and found the money) can buy on margin two $100 stocks for only $100 in cash. If the price goes up he'll make twice as much on the two as he could on the one he would have got by paying cash.

And by the same token, he'll make more paying out 50 cents on the dollar than he could have by putting up 70 cents as he was required to before the Federal Reserve Board lowered margins from 70 per cent to 50 per cent. Of course, if prices should take a further tumble, the optimistic margin trader would be out of luck—he might have to sell or put up more cash, or even lose the cash he'd already paid.

The Federal Reserve set the rules for margin trading. But the various stock exchanges have their own rules, in addition, which member brokers must obey. (The New York Stock Exchange requires at least a $1,000 deposit before a margin account can be opened.)

And many individual brokerage firms impose even stricter margin rules than the minimum set by Fed and the exchanges. Many brokerage houses require high credit ratings before allowing new traders to set up margin accounts. Also, many won't permit margin trading in the lowest priced stocks—those dear to the heart of novice speculation. And most will call for more cash well before the stock's price has fallen below the cut-off level the Federal Reserve rules set.

Brokers say most margin accounts are active ones. That is, credit is most often used by in-and-out traders who buy and sell frequently. Only a small amount of inactive accounts by stock investors are on a margin basis. Most of the investor type trading is strictly a cash proposition with the stocks going into bank boxes until the investor decides they should be sold—for cash.

But even those who never buy on margin watch the Fed's change in rules closely. Rightly or wrongly, they feel that margins are dropped when it is felt that more stock buying would help the economy. And when margin traders buy more stock with their increased credit, the prices tend to go up.

The history of margin changes, however, doesn't always bear this out. Often when margins have been dropped, stock prices have risen only temporarily and if a bear market was already in progress, it has continued after a short upward spurt.

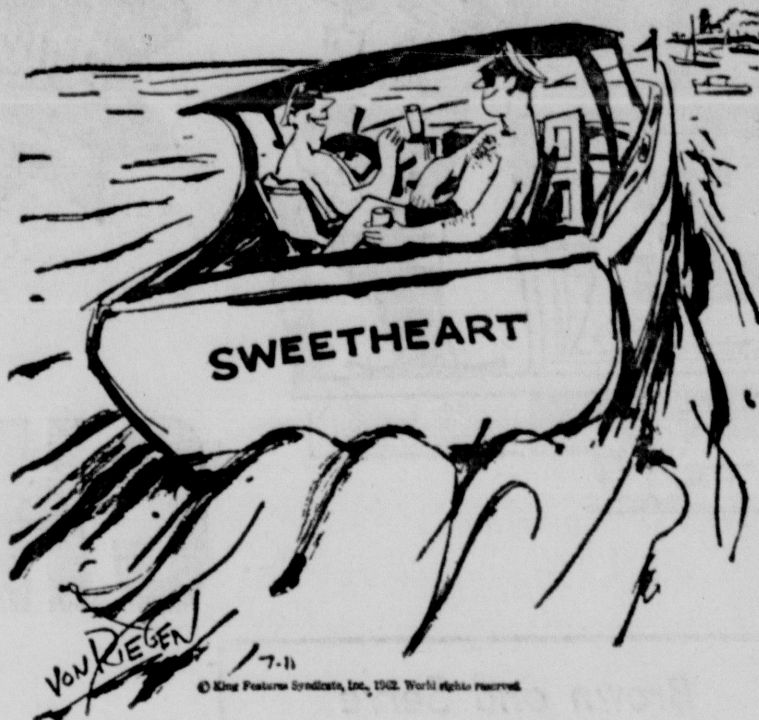

In the same way, hiking margins to chill speculative fever has not always worked either. Often prices have continued to rise, after a few days of indecision.

QUENTIN 'SURVIVOR' — Guard Sgt. Roy B. Kardell, 47, looks none the worse for wear except for that bandage as he tells about his dangerous experience with six San Quentin would-be escapees from death row. Kardell risked his life to phone that there was trouble. "I figured," he said, "that it was better for me to get killed than for these men to get loose." He was slugged with a gun butt.

EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER suggests that thoughtful folks today consider these pithy quotations: 1. "The fear of death, the desire to survive at any cost or price in human degradation, has been the greatest ally of tyranny, past or present." — Sidney Hook. 2. "Optimism is a mania for declaring that all is well when things are going badly." — Voltaire. 3. "A conqueror is always a lover of peace. He would like to make his entry into a coveted state unopposed." — Karl Von Clausewitz.

4. "People are not deceived. They deceive themselves." — Goethe.

St. Peter gazed solemnly at twenty-seven wives, just arrived, and seated before him. "Now, girls," said St. Peter kindly, "I want every one of you who ever nagged your husband on earth to stand up—and remember, no fibbing. I have ways of checking up on you, you know."

Sheepishly, twenty-six of the wives rose to their feet, but the twenty-seventh steadfastly remained seated.

St. Peter nodded, and put in a phone call to the devil. "Satan," he said, "I'm sending down twenty-seven nagging wives to you—and I advise you to be particularly careful of one of them. She's stone deaf."

A would-be contestant on "What's My Line" confided that he had invented a wonderful machine for exterminating termites. "Is it on the market yet?" inquired Herb Stein. "Oh, no," admitted the inventor. "I'll have to get the bugs out of it first."

Dear Doctor: Americans are supposed to be well-nourished. Then why are vitamins and minerals added to flour, milk, etc., with government approval?

Mrs. J. C. (Texas)

Dear Mrs. C.: These extra vitamins and minerals help keep Americans well-nourished. They replace some of the vitamins and minerals lost in processing—enough to guarantee a full daily ration if you eat a balanced diet!

Dear Doctor: Radioactive iodine tests proved that my swollen thyroid gland had stopped working. Yet blood tests showed extra thyroid chemicals flooding my circulation. How come?

Dear Mrs. W.: Perhaps cold, mumps or other germs had triggered a swollen inflammation (thyroiditis). The gland stops working and pours all its thyroid hormone into your circulation—not real thyroid hormone, but an impostor which ordinary blood tests can't distinguish.

You may need thyroid pills to tide you over. When your thyroid slows down, you do too!

Dear Doctor: At 89, I still walk to town and do housework. But I'm hard of hearing. Would removing all wax help?

Mrs. K. K. (Mich.)

Dear Mrs. K.: Only if wax is clogging the canal, keeping sound waves from reaching your eardrum. Clean canals can't help if 89-year-old fibers deep within the ear are wearing out and, like worn-out adios, pick up only the strongest signals.

An ear specialist can tell whether a hearing aid can turn up the volume for your lively program!

Dear Doctor: Did you write that DORNA-se can remove cataracts without an eye operation?

Mrs. F. C. (Iowa)

Dear Mrs. C.: No. A similar enzyme often simplifies delicate eye surgery. It—alpha-chymo-trypsin—helps dissolve fibers anchoring cataract to lens. To apply it, the surgeon must operate—cut into the eyeball and reach the lens.

Don't let wishful thinking blind you to the facts!

Dear Doctor: Because X-rays showed gallstones, my doctor prescribed a special diet. No ham, pork, bacon, butter, cream, fatty or spicy foods. I continued to eat everything with no ill effects.

How can I trust my doctor after such bad advice?

Mrs. U. S. (B.C.)

RICHMOND MAYOR — Mrs. Eleanor P. Sheppard, 54 and a grandmother, was chosen mayor of Richmond, Va., by a 6-3 vote on the City Council's 25th ballot. She is a native of Albany, Ga., but has lived in Richmond for 26 years.

The Welfare State

By George Sokolsky

George S. Montgomery, Jr., a man of broad economic knowledge writes me:

"To challenge your thesis (that the people voted for the Welfare State) would, of course, require a pro and con would reach into factors involved in the respective elections. Against your thesis, I would point instances that Roosevelt, personally, advocated economy in government during his 1932 campaign. I recall vividly his proposal to slash 25 per cent off a list of Federal expenditures."

Montgomery then gives as evidence "The Dunn Survey" which says:

"In contrast, while the number of beneficiaries of such Democratic policies increased by millions there was no increase in Democratic vote. The Democratic vote for President was as follows (in millions):

1936—27.5
1940—27.2
1944—25.6
1948—26.4 incl. Truman, Thurmond, Wallace
1952—27.3

"Thus, if Democratic policies gained the great labor, farm and welfare votes Republican leaders taught their followers to believe, Democrats necessarily lost one vote for every vote gained. In addition, a smaller and smaller proportion of the population of voting age voted Democratic."

The answer, of course, is that the Democrats managed to elect all their candidates for the Presidency from 1932 to 1960, except Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose program and conduct in office in no manner lessened the trend toward the Welfare State. Of the current Republican candidates for President, Richard Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater, only Goldwater really opposes the Welfare State.

President Eisenhower was elected as a military hero. It is only since he has become an ex-President that he has assumed effective leadership. When he was president, he permitted his party to fall into the hands of opportunists who played for votes without principle.

When, however, former President Eisenhower speaks of the Party of Business he needs to define his terms. There are all sorts of businesses in this country:

1. There is the "overhead" business, namely, banks, insurance companies, lawyers, engineering firms, brokers, etc.

Although many of the individuals so engaged have considerable prestige, they are far removed from other and equally or more important branches of the business community. Often their interests are remotely related to the welfare of business and sometimes their earnings are greater when business is in trouble than in good times. Sometimes this group includes the "stuffed shirt" elements, those who fear to be dispossessed by the course of events.

2. There are those who operate the very large units of industry in which the ownership is so diffuse as to be separated altogether from management. These big industries are, in effect, managed by vast bureaucracies, very much like government bureaucracies. They engage in an enormous amount of paper work. Their management is often in the hands of salaried men who only own such equities as they obtain through stock options or deferred payments. Some of them invest their savings in the shares of their companies, but the amounts are small.

In the past, many such persons enjoyed large expense accounts which they spent and therefore kept money in circulation, anyone who knows anything about business knows that it costs money to earn money. The rigidity of the Internal Revenue Service on the subject of expense accounts has undoubtedly had an unfavorable effect on business and on the managerial element.

3. The entrepreneur type of businessman is really all that is left in our mixed economy of the old-type capitalist who made this the largest productive area on Earth. He works with risk capital. He begs and borrows to organize new industries and to modernize old existing ones. He builds new plants and creates new enterprises. He is a constructive citizen.

He suffers today from the anti-risk attitude of the SEC, the New York Stock Exchange, the banks and the law—all designed to keep our economy sure and static. Often, he finds it sensible to go abroad to borrow money in countries where risk is still recognized as a proper function of the capitalist system.

4. The small businessman represents the largest unit of production and distribution. He is being squeezed between the big businesses and the enormous and costly load of bookkeeping that the government places upon him.

Which of these categories of businessmen does the government consult? It is usually the first category—the very pleasant and sociable stuffed shirts who in the business world are recognized as such.

Narcotics Problem

The U. S. Supreme Court voided a California law which made drug addiction a crime on unusual grounds — a declaration that the law constituted cruel and unusual punishment.

Unfortunately, the court cannot take the next logical step, which would be to implement the decision that addiction is a disease rather than a crime. So the ruling does nothing to solve California's problems with drug addicts.

The medical approach has not been tried on a large scale in this country. Britain, which has a tightly regulated medical system for addicts, has just 350 reported addicts. The U. S. has 45,000. But no direct comparison between Britain and the United States can be made; the two countries are too diverse.

But the heart of the British system — attempting cures for curable addicts and providing maintenance doses of narcotics for the incurables — short-circuits the two greatest evils of addiction: the addict is not compelled to turn to crime to support his habit; and the profit in narcotics sales is doing away with, removing the drug peddler's incentive to hook new addicts.

A Weaning Process

Emergency measures taken by the Canadian government and announced two weeks ago have accomplished their immediate purpose. Pressure on the Canadian dollar in the exchange markets has been relieved as quickly as a neurosurgeon can relieve pressure on the brain.

The Canadian dollar crisis has been weathered and without use of any borrowed funds or standby credits from the International Monetary Fund and elsewhere.

That in itself is a reassuring vote of confidence in the basic soundness of the Canadian economy and its industrial potential. But no one will suggest that anything done so far has offered a solution to the basic problem. It has merely created a climate in which solutions can be found.

There are no arbitrary controls, merely a temporary measure increasing tariffs and a promise of less government spending. The rest has been left to Canadian industry and to the Canadian worker and consumer.

The tariff protection while it lasts provides the opportunity for greater Canadian production and increased productivity. The drop in government spending on government works — perhaps the most important step of all — leaves greater resources to be channeled into private investment

More School Aid Is Urged

State's Contribution
Said 'Ridiculously Low'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Cincinnati newspaper executive called Tuesday for more state aid to education to help overcome the "ridiculously low" amount now expended to support the public schools.

Don E. Beattie, assistant managing editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, in a speech at the 15th annual "campaign college" at Ohio State University, said: "Unfortunately our state doesn't provide the proper financial support for its school system. Our state aid to education is ridiculously low."

The one-day "college" was designed to provide for an exchange of ideas between school people and citizens responsible for conducting local bond issue and levy campaigns.

"We are too unconcerned about what our state does for education," Beattie said. "We get all excited about what our local board does or doesn't do but how often do we apply the same feeling and personal effort to what the General Assembly does or doesn't do."

Beattie told the gathering that state support of public education in relation to local tax support has "decreased consistently since 1938 or 1939 in Ohio."

"Local real estate taxes simply cannot carry the load for public education in Ohio," he asserted, adding:

"The state constitution says every child should have the same educational opportunity, but it does not say that parents must vote local taxes to assure it."

Ohio Vehicle Total Tops 4 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state auditor's office reported today that Ohio motor vehicle registrations have passed the four million mark, hitting 4,118,613 for a total revenue of $73,618,783 in the first four months of the registration year.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes said the increase was 111,227 units and an increase of $1,313,861 in license fees collected. Passenger car registrations totaled 3,414,158, accounting for 82,337 of the total increase, and revenues from registrations in this category amounted to $4,141,580, up $823,370 over the previous year.

He said a substantial increase was noted in the farm truck registrations, increasing from 69,792 to 84,475, for a gain of 14,683 over last year. House trailer registrations numbered 11,346 units, up 1,554 over last year. The report also said general truck registrations showed a slight decline, dropping from 301,889 units last year to 293,039 this year. The revenues, however, were up slightly, rising from $27,677,248 to $27,683,535.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—None of the luster has been rubbed off the memory of Sam Rayburn by his successor as speaker of the House, the lanky John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

The 70-year-old New Englander is a pale figure compared with Rayburn, a Texan who, when he died last year at 79, had become the patriarch of the House Democrats.

Rayburn became speaker in 1940. Between then and the time he died McCormack had been his right-hand man as majority leader or Democratic whip.

Rayburn went home sick in 1961 before the Democratic-run House had finished its work for the year, leaving McCormack in charge. When the session was over McCormack spoke proudly of its record.

He can't do the same so far this year, although he has been top man from the beginning and Democrats heavily outnumber Republicans.

McCormack may get an "A" for trying but not for performance.

The simple fact is he was never as colorful as Rayburn, isn't now, and probably couldn't be or want to try to be. He has none of Rayburn's dramatics or his sense of drama.

What counts more—politically—is what kind of captain, soothsayer, and magician has been in getting his Democratic administration's programs through?

He hasn't been particularly distinguished in any of those three categories. Take the soothsayer's role first.

Relations between House and Senate are not as good as when Rayburn was speaker and fellow Texan Lyndon B. Johnson, now vice president, was Senate Democratic leader. Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana is Johnson's successor.

Twice within a year the House, with McCormack in charge, has offended the Senate. At the end of last year, at the very end, the House passed an appropriations bill, sent it to the Senate on a take-it-or-leave-it basis and quit for 1961.

Mansfield didn't mention McCormack by name (he didn't have to) when he told his fellow-senators: "It is outrageous. We have to swallow it. But I think it is a poor sign of the comity which should exist between the two bodies."

This week the House Appropriations Committee passed a resolution which, in effect, accused the Senate of being responsible for two-thirds of the $32 billion added to the national debt in the past 20 years.

The senators could, and did, take this as meaning they were being called wasteful spenders. Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Pa., called it "deliberately insulting."

Rayburn had worked hard to keep relations between the two bodies cool. If he had been around he might have been able to prevent both pokes in the Senate's eye.

The second poke was the product of a dispute going on for three months between the House and Senate Appropriations committees which handle money bills. It has been called a prestige clash. Government employees who had their pay held up a while because of it may call it something else.

The House committee demands that, when it meets with the Senate committee to discuss money, half the meetings be held on the House side of the Capitol with a House member presiding at half the meetings. It goes on and on. Nor is McCormack likely to get any special decorations as a captain this year. The House killed both President Kennedy's farm bill and his plan for a new department of urban affairs and housing. The farm bill slaughter was a shocker to the administration.

The Republicans, with one exception, voted against it. The Democrats had plenty of votes to beat them. But 28 Democrats joined the Republicans to demolish the bill, 215 to 205. Some Democrats, as Kennedy complained, have been splitting off for years to vote with Republicans.

But it's in this smoky field of drifting Democrats where Democratic leadership has to prove itself.

There's been nothing magical about the response of House Democrats to Kennedy's programs. A lot of those programs are bottled up in House committees and may never get out this year for a vote.

Attorney's New Auto Is Damaged by Bomb

CLEVELAND (AP)—An expensive new convertible automobile was damaged slightly Tuesday night by a small dynamite bomb which exploded beneath it, tearing a hole in the driveway at the Shaker Heights home of Moses Krislov, an attorney.

No one was hurt by the blast, which also caused slight damage to the house.

Krislov, who was at home at the time, said he could not think of a motive for the bombing.

Chicago Curtails Midway Airport

CHICAGO (AP)—Midway Airport's last inter-city passenger flight landed Monday, ending the flow of commercial passenger plane traffic which three years ago made Midway the world's busiest airport.

In 1959 Midway handled more than 1,000 flights daily. In the last month less than 300 flights of all types—passenger, freight, private—used the terminal.

The large jet airliners which require lengthy runways apparently doomed Midway's commercial passenger traffic. O'Hare International Airport—northwest of the city—now handles most of Chicago's air traffic.

The $100-million facilities at Midway continue to handle 56 intra-city helicopter flights.

Toledo Man Is Linked to Bank Holdup

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A man who police said admitted taking part in a holdup of the National Bank of Toledo's East Side branch was held today on a charge of malicious entry of a financial institution.

He was arrested late Tuesday, four hours after three men robbed the bank of $12,264 and escaped in a car driven by a fourth member of the gang.

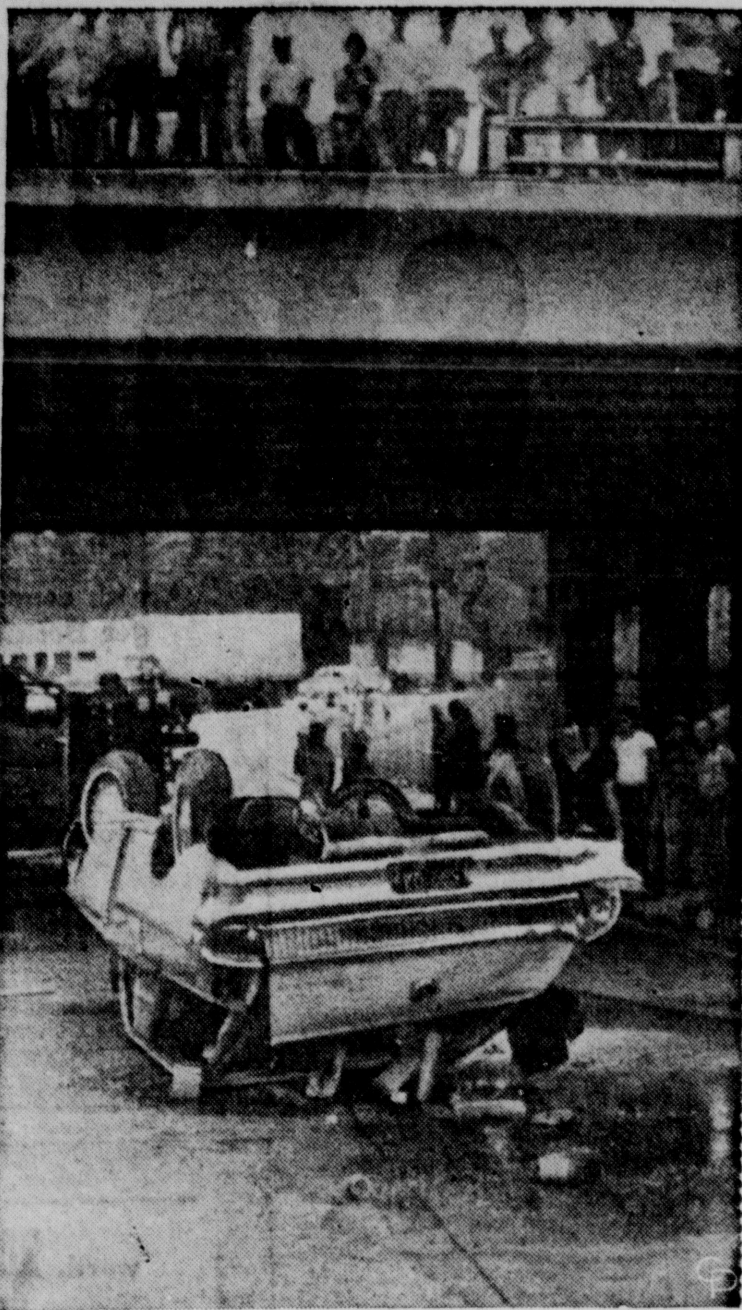

Detective Marion Davey identified him as Robert R. Mooneyham, 25, of Toledo, and said $1,890 was found in the car in which Mooneyham was arrested.

Davey said Mooneyham admitted taking part in the robbery and gave police the names of his accomplices but refused to name the third man.

Davey said Mooneyham was paroled Feb. 8 from Mansfield Reformatory, where he had served time for grand larceny involving the theft of tires from a service station.

One of the robbers was masked and carried a shotgun and another had a pistol. The third carried a large cloth bag, but did not display a gun.

The car in which the robbers fled was found shortly after the robbery in Navarre Park, less than a mile from the bank. It had been stolen from a downtown parking lot two hours earlier, police said.

BUMPED OFF—A station wagon lies on its roof after being struck by another car and bumped off the bridge above. Note the broken guard rail. Of the seven persons in the Ohio car, only John R. Krumm, 17, Dayton, was killed.

Mental Illness

Q. I have heard that mental illness can often be traced to some unfortunate experience in infancy or childhood. Is this true?

A. Over the years the belief that early experiences contribute to development of mental illness has gained strength. However, this basic idea has always been a subject of sharp debate. Those who disagree contend that mental illness has its roots elsewhere than in early childhood. Much of the disagreement springs from the difficulty of conducting research studies on mental illness. The usual procedure is to start with the mentally disturbed person and try to find out what made him that way. This approach is not satisfactory because of the long gap in time between events thought to be important and the actual occurrence of the illness.

Q. Some children are quite creative—others seem to lack this ability. Is this "born in people" or is it learned?

A. Creativity (the ability to produce composition, products, or ideas which are essentially new or novel) is probably the result of both in-born traits and environment. Psychologists are convinced that environmental factors, such as the home and school, are very important in development of the creative mind. Parents of a gifted child should guide but never inhibit or dominate the youngster in the development of his individual interpretation of what goes on. The flickering light of creativity can easily be extinguished by a "do it my way" attitude.

Hemophilia
Q. My granddaughter (age 11) has hemophilia. Is there a cure?
A. No, but modern medicine can do a lot in keeping the condition under control. By the way, hemophilia (a condition in which the blood fails to clot quickly enough) is a very rare condition, and especially so among females.

U.S. Prof Who Sassed Reds Generally a Quiet Homebody

CHICAGO (AP)—Dale Pontius, who spoke out at the Soviet-sponsored World Peace Congress in Moscow, is a rather quiet man around the house.

But on some occasions, such as this one, his voice got him into the news.

He heckled Sen. Joseph McCarthy while the late Wisconsin Republican was making a speech in the Palmer House in Chicago in October, 1952. Pontius later drew a $1 fine on a charge of disorderly conduct.

In 1956 he made charges of traffic ticket fixing. He was invited to tell a grand jury about it, and did. But the jury took no action.

But he never attracted the global attention that he did with his speech Monday night in Moscow, where he criticized both the Communists and the United States for deeds and policies that have a bearing on peace.

Pontius, 55, a professor of political science, has been on the faculty of Roosevelt University in Chicago since 1947.

He and his wife, the former Marjorie Marshall of Boston, live in a house on the South Side near the University of Chicago. They were married four years ago. They have two children, a girl who will be 3 next Sunday and a boy just 3 weeks old. Mrs. Pontius has a 7-year-old son by a previous marriage.

"He's rather quiet at home," Mrs. Pontius said.

She related that he's a bird watcher, he enjoys going out with the children and he's learning to play the accordion.

She described him as a liberal who is independent politically. He is not (repeat not) a Communist, she said, adding for emphasis "far from it."

Pontius was born in Groveport, near Columbus, Ohio. He went to public schools and Ohio State University and did graduate work at Harvard. He taught in Dartmouth and Tulane before coming to Roosevelt University.

In World War I he was a lieutenant with an Army tank unit in the Philippines.

Trash Burner Blaze Seriously Injures Boy

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Jerry Weathers, 3, was in critical condition today at Middletown Hospital from burns suffered in the back yard of his home. Police said gasoline was apparently used to start a fire in a trash burner and the child's clothing caught fire Tuesday night.

Delphos Flier Dies In British Mishap

LONDON (AP) — An American serviceman injured in a motor accident Tuesday has since died in a hospital, bringing the crash toll to four, the U.S. Air Force announced today.

Airman 2-C John L. Sullivan died in Hillingdon, Middlesex, Hospital.

Three other GIs burned to death in the flames of their car early Tuesday after it collided with a truck at a crossroad.

They were: Brice L. Lewis, 24, of Jackson, Mich.; Robert H. Liebrecht, 21, of Delphos, Ohio and Joseph Leonard, 20, of Elmhurst, N.Y.

Wainwright's Whip

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Hair from the tail of a favorite mount of the late Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, made into a fancy riding whip by an Army sergeant, is now on display in the Kansas State Museum.

Back in the 1930s Wainwright then a colonel, was master of the hunt at the famed Cavalry School at Fort Riley near Junction City, Kan. In charge of the hounds was a technical sergeant, Alonzo Teasley.

Teasley, an expert leather worker, made a whip handle and then fashioned on it nearly 22 inches of horse's hair, all taken from Wainwright's mount.

Recently Teasley died and his administrator presented the whip to the museum. With it went a picture of Teasley and his colonel who later became Gen. Wainwright, hero of Corregidor in World War II.

Toledo Man Is Linked to Bank Holdup

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A man who police said admitted taking part in a holdup of the National Bank of Toledo's East Side branch was held today on a charge of malicious entry of a financial institution.

He was arrested late Tuesday, four hours after three men robbed the bank of $12,264 and escaped in a car driven by a fourth member of the gang.

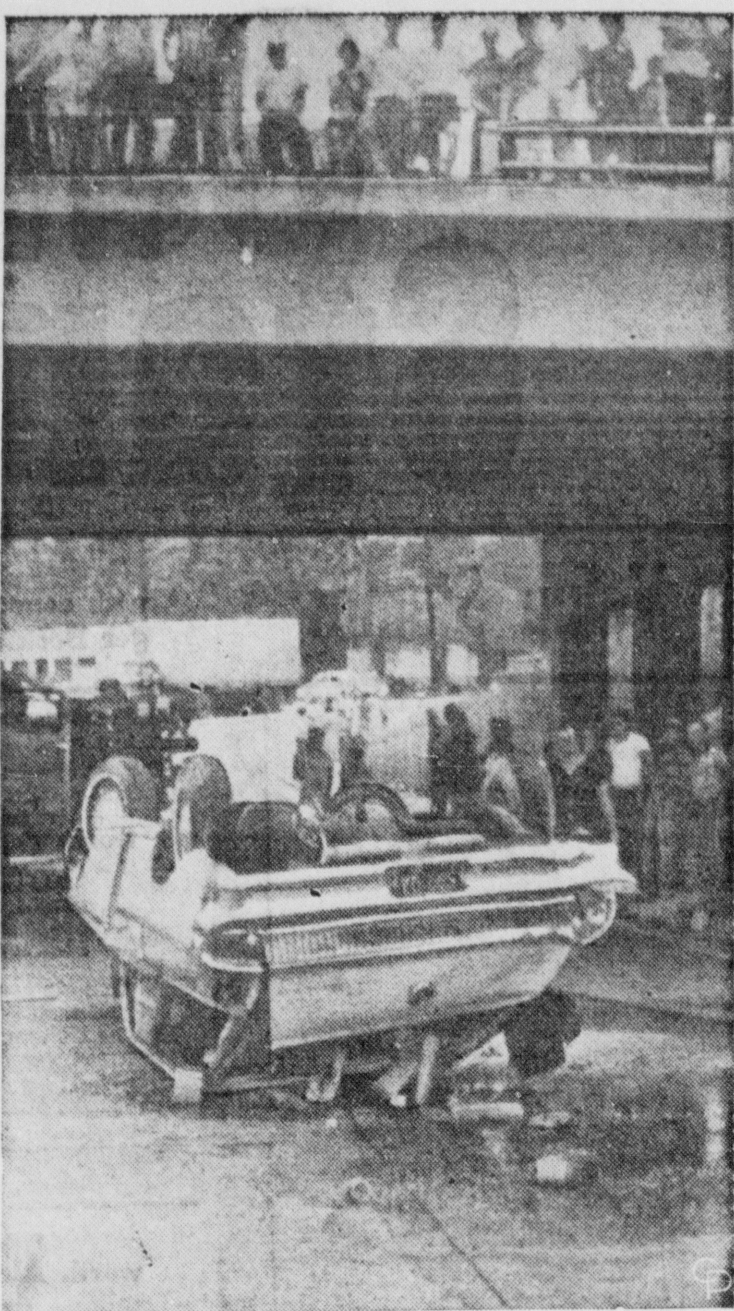

Detective Marion Davey identified him as Robert R. Mooneyham, 25, of Toledo, and said $1,890 was found in the car in which Mooneyham was arrested.

Davey said Mooneyham admitted taking part in the robbery and gave police the names of his accomplices but refused to name the third man.

Davey said Mooneyham was paroled Feb. 8 from Mansfield Reformatory, where he had served time for grand larceny involving the theft of tires from a service station.

One of the robbers was masked and carried a shotgun and another had a pistol. The third carried a large cloth bag, but did not display a gun.

The car in which the robbers fled was found shortly after the robbery in Navarre Park, less than a mile from the bank. It had been stolen from a downtown parking lot two hours earlier, police said.

BUMPED OFF—A station wagon lies smashed on its roof after being struck by another car and bumped off the bridge above. Note the broken guard rail. Of the seven persons in the Ohio car, only John R. Krumm, 17, Dayton, was killed.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

He's Got Much To Learn!

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend has been overseas for two years. I just got a letter from him telling me he'll arrive home July 28th. We plan to marry as soon as he gets a job. He told me not to tell his mother when he's arriving as he wants me to meet him alone, and he'll see his mother the next day and tell her he just got home. His mother has been counting the days until his return, too, and I feel bad that she won't have the pleasure of knowing he's coming home. Should I tell her?

HIS GIRLFRIEND: Write and tell him to write his mother so you can both meet him. And bear in mind, a man rarely treats his wife any better than he treats his mother.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is, how do you say no to a guy you've been saying yes to for two years?

CINDY: DEAR CINDY: The same way you say no to anybody else. Only louder!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is not easy to answer, but I certainly wish you would help me. How does a respectable woman meet a decent man? (Object—matrimony.) I refuse to cheapen myself by going to bars alone and I don't want to get mixed up with any Lonely Hearts Clubs. I am getting tired of people asking me how come a nice woman like me isn't married.

READY, WILLING, LONESOME: DEAR R. W. AND L.: Because your question is such a popular one I am going to try to help you and millions of other lonely people. I am inviting my readers (men and women) to write and tell me how they met their one and only. I'll print some of the more interesting letters in the hope they will be of some assistance.

DEAR ABBY: Let me be the first to join Irene's campaign against telephone solicitation. I work nights and need to get my rest during the daytime. I was awakened this afternoon by a man who told me he had heard that I was interested in buying "siding" for my home. Abby, I live in a basement dwelling. Now where would I put siding?

UNLISTED NUMBER: How is the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Obscene Literature

Hearing Is Scheduled

CINCINNATI (AP) — Charles Poplos, 39, faces a hearing next Tuesday in County Court in Fairfax on a charge of possessing obscene literature. Hamilton County police raided Poplos' home in Anderson Twp. Tuesday and seized what they called the largest amount of pornography confiscated in their memory.

Miss Nancy Smith was a Thursday evening supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kerwin Durlinger.

Mr. Ray Ridgeway is still a patient in Doctor's Hospital at this writing, and is reported to be improving very nicely. Don't forget to send him cards to cheer him.

Do Americans Appreciate Liberty?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The revolution of the original 13 American states against foreign domination set in movement a slow-building political hurricane that has since stormed the winds of change to every continent.

The successful example of the American revolt became the pattern for scores of others since then—some wise, some forlorn, some honest, some cynical.

But nearly two centuries after the revolt of the American colonies, it could hardly be said that half the peopled earth has either true political liberty or freedom from hunger pangs.

The liberty Americans are now born to—liberty denied to millions elsewhere—we largely take for granted. As a fresh reminder, here are what some famous minds have said about the importance of independence and liberty across the centuries:

"Proclaim liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof"—from the Old Testament graven in 1753 on the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia.

"A love of liberty is planted by nature in the breasts of all men"—Dionysius of Halicarnassus, 20 B.C.

"No favor produces less permanent gratitude than the gift of liberty, especially among people who are ready to make a bad use of it"—Livy.

"Thou inquest what liberty is? To be slave to nothing, to no necessity, to keep fortune at arm's length"—Seneca.

"Give me the liberty to know, to utter, and to argue freely according to conscience, above all liberties"—John Milton.

"They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety"—Benjamin Franklin.

"Free people, remember this maxim: We may acquire liberty, but it is never recovered if it is once lost"—J. J. Rousseau.

"Among a people generally corrupt liberty cannot exist. Liberty must be limited in order to be possessed"—Edmund Burke.

"The natural progress of things is for liberty to yield and governments to gain ground. The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is its natural manure"—Thomas Jefferson.

"Mankind is tired of liberty"—Benito Mussolini.

"Liberty means responsibility. That is why most men dread it"—George Bernard Shaw.

"The greatest dangers to liberty lurk in insidious encroachments by men of zeal, well-meaning but without understanding"—Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

"Liberty is the only thing you cannot have unless you are willing to give it to others"—William Allen White.

South Korean Junta Alters Its Cabinet

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's ruling military junta announced a shakeup of its Cabinet today, appointing Kim Hyun-chul as premier succeeding Gen. Chung Hee Park. Park remains head of the junta.

Kim was named chairman of the Economic Planning Board and vice premier June 18 when Park took over the premiership.

Park also retained his post as acting president.

Kim was finance minister under former President Syngman Rhee. Park said in a statement the junta had been looking for a suitable man for the premiership and finally decided on Kim, an American-educated economist.

There was talk Kim, 61, was offered the job after Song Yo-chan resigned, but refused to take it until more power was given the job.

Park accepted the resignation of two junta members, and also appointed two new ministers.

The two who resigned are Army Brig. Gen. Sohn Chang-kyu, chairman of the junta committee on education and social affairs; and Army Brig. Gen. Yoo Won-shik, a member of the junta's finance and economic affairs committee.

The junta said they resigned for "personal reasons."

Ohio Army Reservists Get Guerrilla Training

CAMP DAWSON, W. Va. (AP)—While guerilla-trained Ohio members of the 2nd Special Army Reserve Forces roamed the woods and mountains of West Virginia Tuesday, more than 30 of the unit's administrative personnel parachuted into the camp parade grounds.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

He's Got Much To Learn!

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend has been overseas for two years. I just got a letter from him telling me he'll arrive home July 28th. We plan to marry as soon as he gets a job. He told me not to tell his mother when he's arriving as he wants me to meet him alone, and he'll see his mother the next day and tell her he just got home. His mother has been counting the days until his return, too, and I feel bad that she won't have the pleasure of knowing he's coming home. Should I tell her?

HIS GIRLFRIEND: Write and tell him to write his mother so you can both meet him. And bear in mind, a man rarely treats his wife any better than he treats his mother.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is, how do you say no to a guy you've been saying yes to for two years?

CINDY: DEAR CINDY: The same way you say no to anybody else. Only louder!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is not easy to answer, but I certainly wish you would help me. How does a respectable woman meet a decent man? (Object—matrimony.) I refuse to cheapen myself by going to bars alone and I don't want to get mixed up with any Lonely Hearts Clubs. I am getting tired of people asking me how come a nice woman like me isn't married.

READY, WILLING, LONESOME: DEAR R. W. AND L.: Because your question is such a popular one I am going to try to help you and millions of other lonely people. I am inviting my readers (men and women) to write and tell me how they met their one and only. I'll print some of the more interesting letters in the hope they will be of some assistance.

DEAR ABBY: Let me be the first to join Irene's campaign against telephone solicitation. I work nights and need to get my rest during the daytime. I was awakened this afternoon by a man who told me he had heard that I was interested in buying "siding" for my home. Abby, I live in a basement dwelling. Now where would I put siding?

UNLISTED NUMBER: How is the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Obscene Literature Hearing Is Scheduled

CINCINNATI (AP) — Charles Poplos, 39, faces a hearing next Tuesday in County Court in "fairfax on a charge of possessing obscene literature. Hamilton County police raided Poplos' home in Anderson Twp. Tuesday and seized what they called the largest amount of pornography confiscated in their memory.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baughan of Columbus visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and family on the evening of July 4th.

Mrs. David Cox was returned to her home here last Monday and is getting along nicely now. Her daughter also is much improved.

Miss Nancy Smith was a Thursday evening supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kerwin Durlinger.

Mr. Ray Ridgeway is still a patient in Doctor's Hospital at this writing, and is reported to be improving very nicely. Don't forget to send him cards to cheer him.

Do Americans Appreciate Liberty?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The revolution of the original 13 American states against foreign domination set in movement a slow-building political hurricane that has since stormed the winds of change to every continent.

The successful example of the American revolt became the pattern for scores of others since then—some wise, some forlorn, some honest, some cynical.

But nearly two centuries after the revolt of the American colonies, it could hardly be said that half the peopled earth has either true political liberty or freedom from hunger pangs.

The liberty Americans are now born to—liberty denied to millions elsewhere—we largely take for granted. As a fresh reminder, here are what some famous minds have said about the importance of independence and liberty across the centuries:

"Proclaim liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof"—from the Old Testament, given in 1753 on the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia.

"A love of liberty is planted by nature in the breasts of all men"—Dionysius of Halicarnassus, 20 B.C.

"No favor produces less permanent gratitude than the gift of liberty, especially among people who are ready to make a bad use of it"—Livy.

"Thou inquest what liberty is? To be slave to nothing, to no necessity, to keep fortune at arm's length"—Seneca.

"Give me the liberty to know, to utter, and to argue freely according to conscience, above all liberties"—John Milton.

"They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety"—Benjamin Franklin.

"Free people, remember this maxim: We may acquire liberty, but it is never recovered if it is once lost"—J. J. Rousseau.

"Among a people generally corrupt liberty cannot exist. Liberty must be limited in order to be possessed"—Edmund Burke.

"The natural progress of things is for liberty to yield and governments to gain ground. The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is its natural manure"—Thomas Jefferson.

"Mankind is tired of liberty"—Benito Mussolini.

"Liberty means responsibility. That is why most men dread it"—George Bernard Shaw.

"The greatest dangers to liberty lurk in insidious encroachments by men of zeal, well-meaning but without understanding"—Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

"Liberty is the only thing you cannot have unless you are willing to give it to others"—William Allen White.

South Korean Junta Alters Its Cabinet

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's ruling military junta announced a shakeup of its Cabinet today, appointing Kim Hyun-chul as premier succeeding Gen. Chung Hee Park. Park remains head of the junta.

Kim was named chairman of the Economic Planning Board and vice premier June 18 when Park took over the premiership.

Park also retained his post as acting president.

Kim was finance minister under former President Syngman Rhee. Park said in a statement the junta had been looking for a suitable man for the premiership and finally decided on Kim, an American-educated economist.

There was talk Kim, 61, was offered the job after Song Yo-chan resigned, but refused to take it until more power was given the job.

Park accepted the resignation of two junta members, and also appointed two new ministers.

The two who resigned are Army Brig. Gen. Sohn Chang-kyu, chairman of the junta committee on education and social affairs; and Army Brig. Gen. Yoo Won-shik, a member of the junta's finance and economic affairs committee. The junta said they resigned for "personal reasons."

Clara Bow Still 'a Looker' Although She Is 56 Years Old

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A wave, a faint smile from the cupid's-bow and Clara Bow lapsed back into the secluded life that has enveloped her for a dozen years.

She emerged Monday to attend the funeral of Rex Bell, whom she married in 1931 when both were screen stars. After the services, she returned to the small home in West Los Angeles where she has lived quietly for the last seven years.

Before that, she was in a sanitarium in Culver City, trying to conquer the nervous condition that plagued her as a result of long-time insomnia.

"Clara always had trouble sleeping," recalls her onetime leading man and still a friend, Richard Arlen.

"After Clara quit, I used to go up to the ranch she and Rex had in Nevada. Rex had built a sound-proof room for her to sleep in, but that still didn't help."

Clara, who had been the symbol of flaming youth in the 1920s, retired shortly after her marriage. She returned for a couple of pictures at Fox in the early 1930s, but she wasn't happy. She retired once and for all to Nevada to be with Mrs. Rex Bell and mother of their two sons.

But sleep still eluded her, with the resulting inroads on her emotional health. Bell attributed her trouble to the high-strung decade when she was the nation's "It Girl."

Since proper facilities were lacking in Nevada, she moved back to California while he remained behind, rising to lieutenant governor. Bell said he and the sons visited her often.

She has seen few others. Her oldtime pals from the studio days get handwritten Christmas cards from her every year. But their requests to visit her are politely turned down.

What does she do?

"Oh, the days just aren't long enough for her," said an intimate. "She swims a great deal and watches television by the hour. She devours it. She watches after her business interests and often goes out on such errands. When she is out, he might go to a restaurant for dinner. But most of the time is spent at home."

She lives with a nurse, Estella Smith, who has been with the family 15 years. Also with a Siberian husky and French poodle—"They really run the house."

One thing is certain from having viewed her this week: the old Bow magic is still there. At 56, she is still a looker. She is small—only 5 feet 3—and remains trim. Judging from only a cursory look under trying circumstances, she still has the look of a star.

Decrease Predicted In Corn Harvest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Tuesday estimated the 1962 production of corn for harvest as grain at 3,518,059,000 bushels, a decrease of 3 per cent from the 1961 crop.
The 1962 wheat crop was forecast at 1,050,053,000 bushels compared with 1,057,670,000 indicated a month ago, 1,234,705,000 in 1961, and 1,288,563,000 for the 10-year (1951-60) average.
The corn estimate is the first of the year and compares with last year's production of 3,624,313,000 bushels harvested for grain.

Fashion Designers Decree Heavy Coats Next Winter

By JOY MILLER
Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—The most fashionable look next winter will be a pink nose emerging from the warm depths of a capacious fur hat and muffling fur collar.

Designers are bundling up women against cold weather as if they fear a penicillin shortage with the first snowfall; and their solicitude, after ears of pneumonia-baiting, is welcome.

About 200 of the nation's fashion writers witnessed this change of heart Monday in the first day of New York Couture Group showings. The afternoon parade of fall and winter clothes from the houses of Harry Frechtel, Edward Abbott and Harvey Berin reflected this newly awakened concern for protecting feminine frailty.

The unspoken question is: Could it be that President Kennedy, with his program for health and physical fitness, is wielding more influence in the fashion field than his chic First Lady?

It's true that Edward Abbott showed an Indian coat like Prime Minister Nehru wears and a group of sari brocades, no doubt in commemoration of Mrs. Kennedy's trip to India and Pakistan. The Mexican theme was absent, possibly because her visit south of the border was announced too late for the fall design deadline. Besides, who ever heard of a fur sombrero, or sable serape?

Harry Frechtel extended his health preservation policy to men, too. He kept most of the fur inside his coats, thus protecting husbands from shock and stress. First they get used to the idea of paying for what shows, a little mink trim perhaps. Later they can weather that first dazzling peek at the coat's lining—a seemingly endless expanse of rippling, luxuriant, ransom-rich fur. Linings, with mink most popular, include everything from nutria and Australian opossum to the skins of baby foxes and hamsters.

3 Railroads Ask Approval Of Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Norfolk and Western, Nickel Plate and Wabash roads urged Tuesday that the Interstate Commerce Commission approve their proposal to merge.

In a brief filed with the ICC, the railroads asked the commission to reject a suggestion that the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad be included in the merger.

The suggestion came from the Port of New York Authority and the state of New York, with a request that approval of the merger be held up until steps were taken to include the Erie-Lackawanna.

The three applying railroads told the ICC that expansion of the N&W into a 14-state-and-Canadian system covering 7,400 miles eventually would benefit the Erie-Lackawanna through increased traffic and revenues for that railroad.

The Erie-Lackawanna and the Nickel Plate already have a heavy interchange of traffic and are now building a jointly owned and operated classification yard at Buffalo, N. Y.

The proposal calls for merging of the N&W and the Nickel Plate, leasing and eventual acquisition of the Wabash and purchase of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Sandusky Line as a connecting link.

The railroads said the consolidation eventually would mean a $27 million annual saving before federal income taxes.

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

Questions of interest to ex-servicemen should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, James Shea. His office is in the basement of the Courthouse.

Q — My husband was recently discharged from the Dayton VA Hospital because of "MHB". What does that mean?

A — That means "maximum hospital benefit". In other words, in the opinion of hospital officials, additional time in the hospital would bring about no further improvement in the patient's condition.

Q — Has the so called "Long Insurance" bill been passed by this session of Congress?

A — A new version of the "Long Bill," as well as several other bills which would reopen GI insurance for World War II veterans, has been submitted to Congress but neither the House nor the Senate has as yet acted upon them.

Q — Have any educational benefits been provided for peacetime veterans?

A — Although Congress has considered, and is considering, several types of educational benefits for peacetime veterans, none have passed into legislation as yet.

Q — As the orphan of a deceased serviceman, is it necessary that I be 18 and have finished high school to become eligible for schooling under the War Orphans Educational Act?

A — Specialized vocational training in a below - college - level school may be taken if you have quit school, are above the compulsory school age, and the VA finds it would be to your advantage to begin your vocational education before reaching age 18.

Q — I am a 62-year-old World War I veteran. Can I enter a VA domiciliary when I am 65?

A — There is no age limit concerning VA domiciliary care. A veteran must have a disability that incapacitates him from earning a living and must meet certain other medical and legal criteria, to be admitted for VA domiciliary care. Age has no bearing on this benefit.

Q — I don't understand the difference between "Pension" and "Compensation". Just exactly what is the difference, if any?

A — There is a vast difference between "pension" and "compensation". "Pension" is a payment paid to a veteran for a disability not connected with his war service, provided he meets certain income requirements, and provided he is totally and permanently disabled. "Compensation" is a payment made to a veteran whose disability is connected with his military service. This payment is paid for degrees of disability from ten to 100 per cent.

All Wrapped Up

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — Locomotives, in the same manner as candy bars, are shipped in protective wrapping these days.

A 118-ton locomotive built here by Alco Products Inc., for the Hellenic State Railways of Greece, was encased in a sprayable, peelable, plastic-like cocoon to protect it from sun, wind and salt water damage during the voyage. On arrival, the covering is peeled off in strips.

The saying "still water runs deep" may be good psychology, but it is not good hydrology. Still water may be shallow or deep, and deep water may flow slowly or fast.

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

Questions of interest to ex-service men should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, James Shea. His office is in the basement of the Courthouse.

Q — My husband was recently discharged from the Dayton VA Hospital because of "MHB". What does that mean?

A — That means "maximum hospital benefit". In other words, in the opinion of hospital officials, additional time in the hospital would bring about no further improvement in the patient's condition.

Q — Has the so called "Long Insurance" bill been passed by this session of Congress?

A — A new version of the "Long Bill," as well as several other bills which would reopen GI insurance for World War II veterans, has been submitted to Congress but neither the House nor the Senate has as yet acted upon them.

Q — Have any educational benefits been provided for peacetime veterans?

A — Although Congress has considered, and is considering, several types of educational benefits for peacetime veterans, none have passed into legislation as yet.

Q — As the orphan of a deceased serviceman, is it necessary that I be 18 and have finished high school to become eligible for schooling under the War Orphans Educational Act?

A — Specialized vocational training in a below - college - level school may be taken if you have quit school, are above the compulsory school age, and the VA finds it would be to your advantage to begin your vocational education before reaching age 18.

Q — I am a 62-year-old World War I veteran. Can I enter a VA domiciliary when I am 65?

A — There is no age limit concerning VA domiciliary care. A veteran must have a disability that incapacitates him from earning a living and must meet certain other medical and legal criteria, to be admitted for VA domiciliary care. Age has no bearing on this benefit.

Q — I don't understand the difference between "Pension" and "Compensation". Just exactly what is the difference, if any?

A — There is a vast difference between "pension" and "compensation". "Pension" is a payment paid to a veteran for a disability not connected with his war service, provided he meets certain income requirements, and provided he is totally and permanently disabled. "Compensation" is a payment made to a veteran whose disability is connected with his military service. This payment is paid for degrees of disability from ten to 100 per cent.

All Wrapped Up

SCHENECTADY, N. U. (AP) — Locomotives, in the same manner as candy bars, are shipped in protective wrapping these days.

A 118-ton locomotive built here by Alco Products Inc., for the Hellenic State Railways of Greece, was encased in a sprayable, peelable, plastic-like cocoon to protect it from sun, wind and salt water damage during the voyage. On arrival, the covering is peeled off in strips.

The saying "still water runs deep" may be good psychology, but it is not good hydrology. Still water may be shallow or deep, and deep water may flow slowly or fast.

Palmer Leads 8 Yanks Into Prestige Test

TROON, Scotland (AP) — The 1962 British Open championship, one of the real prizes of golf, opened today in an atmosphere suggesting it was a match between the United States and Australia.

With the ever dangerous qualifying rounds behind them, the big bellies of modern golf took on Old Troon's 7,045-yard, par 72 layout in search of glory which by American standards is about all they get out of it.

First prize is only 1,400 pounds — $3,920 — but as defending champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., said: "You can break even on expenses but the point is this is a matter of prestige. That is why I come here, and my wife and I also enjoy the trip."

Palmer led a contingent of eight Americans into the championship as a 2-1 favorite to retain the crown he won last year at Birkdale in England. But he knew full well he had to contend with Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., who qualified with 142 against Palmer's 143, old Sam Snead, U. S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler, the San Diego, Calif. star who won the U.S. Open a year ago.

Palmer and his American buddies were also looking over their shoulders at the Australians.

They were Kel Nage, who won the 1960 title at St. Andrews, beating Pamer by one shot, Bruce Devlin, an amateur turned professional who was the key to Australia's defeat of the United States in the Eisenhower World Cup pay at St. Andrews in 1959, and the reliable Peter Thomson, four times British Open king.

Nagle served notice in the qualifying rounds he is to be reckoned with by breaking the Lochgown course record with a 65 and tacking on a 76 at Troon for 141. Thomson just coasted around in 70-73-143 which was as good as Palmer. Devlin posted 72-68-140.

Perhaps one of the most dangerous of all was Gary Player of South Africa. He settled for 71-76-147 in the qualifying.

After today's 18 holes and Thursday's repeat, the field of 119 qualifiers will be reduced to the low 50. They go the final 36-hole route Friday.

1961 Finalists Vie In Women's Match

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judy Rand of Aurora and Kathy Newton of Cleveland, finalists in the Ohio Women's Amateur Golf Tournament last year, meet today in the second round of match play for the 1962 title.

Miss Rand, who defeated Miss Newton in Cincinnati for the 1961 crown, advanced Tuesday by beating Mrs. Harold Artz of Akron, 2 and 1, in the opening round over the par 75 Kirtland Country Club course. Miss Newton eliminated Mrs. Morris Stroud of Kirtland, 7 and 5.

Donna Kosar of Cuyahoga Falls, who won medalist honors with a 74 in Monday's qualifier, advanced to the second round with a 6 and 4 victory over Mrs. Hugh O'Neill of Shaker Heights.

Stonerock's Win At Washington

The Stonerock TV softball nine, beat Springfield 6-4 in the fast pitch league at Washington C. H. yesterday.

Harold Gulick drove in three runs for the local crew with two doubles. Harry Strawser and Keny Reed handled the mound duties for the winners.

The TV team has a doubleheader scheduled for 7 p. m. Saturday at the Ted Lewis Park with Zanesville.

George Kell, Detroit Tiger broadcaster has two silver bats, emblematic of hitting titles. He led the Interstate League with Lancaster, Pa., in 1943 and paced the American League with the 1949 Tigers.

Incredible Alonzo Stagg Nearly 100 Years Old

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Football's incredible Amos Alonzo Stagg reaches his 100th birthday on Aug. 16, commemorating a century of living and teaching by the moral principles to which he was dedicated.

"I felt specially called to preach," he says, "but I decided to do it on the athletic fields."

With that decision in 1890 began a coaching career spanning 70 years with innovations and contributions to be remembered as long as the game is played.

His eyes are dim, his hands tremble, he moves and speaks slowly as the body that made him a 160-pound athletic star yields grudgingly to the demands of time.

At Yale, where he was a member of the first All-America football team ever selected, Stagg studied for the ministry and pitched baseball—the best collegiate hurler of the era.

Yale won five league championships during Stagg's pitching career and he turned down six offers from major league clubs.

"I gave up professional baseball on principle," he explains today. "There may have been nothing wrong about it, but that didn't make it right for me."

There was a bar in every pro park those days which didn't fit Stagg's principles of living.

He also felt he should teach others rather than exploit his own athletic talents.

Throughout the years, Stagg championed amateur sport, terming it "one of the opportunities which come to a young man, and to me it was a special opportunity."

Stagg and his beloved wife, Stella, have three children, a daughter, Ruth, and two sons, Amos Alonzo Jr., and Paul, both of whom coached football. Since leaving the University of Chicago in 1933 after coaching 41 years and reaching the mandatory retirement age of 70, Stagg and his wife have lived in a modest cottage in Stockton.

Stagg never drank, smoked or swore. On occasion, he might call an erring player a jackass, double jackass or even triple jackass if the offense were serious enough.

University of Chicago players formed a "jackass club," and even the coach's son, Paul, a quarterback for the Maroons from 1929-31, was a member.

"He called me a double jackass once," recalls Paul, now Dr. Stagg and head of the athletic and physical education department at University of the Pacific here. His father came to this school, then known as College of the Pacific, in 1933 after Chicago thought him too old.

In 1938, he took the Pacific team to Chicago and whipped the Maroons 32-0.

Stagg remained at COP through 1946, honored by the Football Coaches Association in 1943 as "Coach of the Year" at the age of 81. His club that year beat California, UCLA, St. Mary's and went undefeated until the final game when USC took a one-touch-down decision.

Lucas' Status in Pro Cage League Switchover Studied

NEW YORK (AP)—The big ride in the National Basketball Association today was: Will All-American Jerry Lucas stick with the Cleveland Pipers, the newest entrant in the league?

"I spoke with him Monday," said George Steinbrenner, principal stockholder of the Pipers, "and he agreed to play in the NBA. We are working out details now so he can continue his education."

"I think Jerry realizes now there is not much difference between the 80 games in the NBA and the 72 he would have played in the American Basketball League."

But Lucas, who is attending summer sessions at Ohio State, said: "We haven't come to any agreement. I really don't know what I'm going to do. I just don't have a contract to play in the NBA."

He said that if he does decide to play in the NBA, he will make a raise over his two-year, $60,000 contract.

It appears obvious that the Pipers, champions of the ABL, would not have been taken in Tuesday as the tenth team in the NBA if they could not promise that Lucas would play for them.

Lucas previously had objected strenuously to the long NBA season and gave it as one of his main reasons for casting his lot with the ABL.

The Piper move sounded the death knell for the ABL, which was in business just one season. There was talk of getting started again in 1963-64, but that is a long way ahead.

ABL attorney Allan Bloch conceded that the Pipers' entry into the NBA, plus San Francisco's withdrawal from the ABL last week finished the fledgling league.

The Pipers reportedly had to fork up $300,000 to the NBA for the franchise, plus another $100,000 performance bond. Presumably, the Cincinnati Royals would get the biggest chunk of the $300,000 to save their wounds for having lost Lucas, their No. 1 draft choice, to the Pipers.

Rotary Storms To Fifth Straight Win

Rotary continued its winning ways with a convincing 21-7 win over Circleville Oil, Second National won their seventh game of the season with a 23-7 triumph over Third National and Jaycees sent First National down to their sixth defeat with a 22-5 victory in little league minor action last night.

The Herald defeated Ralston Purina 11-3 in the only scheduled little league major game.

Rotary has scored at least twenty runs in each of their last four games and has won five in a row after losing the first four games of the season. The Rotary nine has scored 92 runs and 99 hits in the last four games.

Richard Walters had a perfect night at the plate with five straight hits. He socked two doubles, three singles and scored four runs. Wayne Garrison hit two long home runs and singled twice and also scored four runs. Gary Ferrell hit a double and three singles in five trips. Tom Rowland blasted a home run and three singles and scored three runs and Gary Dumm hit three singles and scored three runs. Dave Hopkins hit a home run and a single and scored two runs.

Circleville Oil had only four hits. John Lock had two singles and Chris McKenzie scored two runs. Steve Cassidy led the 17 hit Second National attack with four hits in five trips to the plate. He hit a home run, a double and two singles and also scored five runs. Don Humphrey scored a home run, double, and single and scored two runs and Harold Strawser hit a triple and two singles. Dave Morgan tallied four runs and Don Conkle crossed the plate three times.

Danny Hettlinger banged a triple and single and scored two runs for Third National. Don Coates hit a triple and a single and Boltenhouse a double and a single.

Bob Jones hit a triple, double and a single for Jaycees. Harry Mumaw hit a double and two singles and Mark Frericks a double and a single. Mumaw, Jones, Frericks, Mike Johnson, Dick Prushing and Good each scored three runs. First National had only two hits. Dannie Thomas socked a double and John Myers hit a single. Jaycees now has a record of 7-2 and First National has a 1-8 mark.

Dave Justice hit two doubles and Steve Gilmore two singles in leading The Herald to their fifth win of the season. Justice scored three runs, Gilmore scored two and Joe Winner tallied two.

Tim Leasure banged a triple and single and Jim Hill socked two singles for Ralston. Herald's record is 5-6 and Ralston's is 6-5.

Stonerock's Win At Washington

The Stonerock TV softball nine, beat Springfield 6-4 in the first pitch league at Washington C. H. yesterday.

Harold Gulick drove in three runs for the local crew with two doubles. Harry Strawser and Keny Reed handled the mound duties for the winners.

The TV team has a doubleheader scheduled for 7 p. m. Saturday at the Ted Lewis Park with Zanesville.

Legion Tilt at Vets Hospital Postponed

The baseball game between the Circleville Legion team and the Portsmouth team at the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital scheduled for yesterday was postponed.

No games will be rescheduled in the district tournament until a ruling is made by the district and state Legion baseball commissioners concerning the eligibility of the Chillicothe team in the tournament.

119 Qualify In Britain

Palmer Leads 8 Yanks Into Prestige Test

TROON, Scotland (AP) — The 1962 British Open championship, one of the real prizes of golf, opened today in an atmosphere suggesting it was a match between the United States and Australia.

With the ever dangerous qualifying rounds behind them, the big bellers of modern golf took on Old Troon's 7,045-yard, par 72 layout in search of glory which by American standards is about all they get out of it.

First prize is only 1,400 pounds — $3,920—but as defending champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., said: "You can break even on expenses but the point is this is a matter of prestige. That is why I come here, and my wife and I also enjoy the trip."

Palmer led a contingent of eight Americans into the championship as a 2-1 favorite to retain the crown he won last year at Birkdale in England. But he knew full well he had to contend with Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., who qualified with 142 against Palmer's 143, old Sam Snead, U. S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler, the San Diego, Calif. star who won the U.S. Open a year ago.

Palmer and his American buddies were also looking over their shoulders at the Australians.

They were Kel Nage, who won the 1960 title at St. Andrews, beating Palmer by one shot, Bruce Devlin, an amateur turned professional who was the key to Australia's defeat of the United States in the Eisenhower World Cup play at St. Andrews in 1959, and the reliable Peter Thomson, four times British Open king.

Nagle served notice in the qualifying rounds he is to be reckoned with by breaking the Lochgreen course record with a 65 and tacking on a 76 at Troon for 141. Thomson just coasted around in 70-73-143 which was as good as Palmer. Devlin posted 72-68-140.

Perhaps one of the most dangerous of all was Gary Player of South Africa. He settled for 71-76-147 in the qualifying.

After today's 18 holes and Thursday's repeat, the field of 119 qualifiers will be reduced to the low 50. They go the final 36-hole route Friday.

1961 Finalists Vie In Women's Match

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judy Rand of Aurora and Kathy Newton of Cleveland, finalists in the Ohio Women's Amateur Golf Tournament last year, meet today in the second round of match play for the 1962 title.

Miss Rand, who defeated Miss Newton in Cincinnati for the 1961 crown, advanced Tuesday by beating Mrs. Harold Artz of Akron, 2 and 1, in the opening round over the par 75 Kirtland Country Club course. Miss Newton eliminated Mrs. Morris Stroud of Kirtland, 7 and 5.

Donna Kosar of Cuyahoga Falls, who won medalist honors with a 74 in Monday's qualifier, advanced to the second round with a 6 and 4 victory over Mrs. Hugh O'Neill of Shaker Heights.

Incredible Alonzo Stagg Nearly 100 Years Old

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Football's incredible Amos Alonzo Stagg reaches his 100th birthday on Aug. 16, commemorating a century of living and teaching by the moral principles to which he was dedicated.

Heavyweights Too Cautious, Fight to Draw

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Eddie Machen and Cleveland Williams ruined their immediate chances for heavyweight title shot Tuesday night with a cautiously fought 10-round draw. Each said he would like to try over again.

Both Machen, the No. 2 heavyweight contender, and Williams, ranked No. 5, climbed into the ring hoping to come out with a clear-cut right to challenge the Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson winner for the title.

Machen, if unhappy over the verdict, had no second thoughts about his part of the fight and said it went as planned.

The Portland, Ore., fighter entered the ring outweighed by more than 13 pounds. Williams scaled 211½ to Machen's 198.

Machen came out unscathed. Williams had a cut on the mouth and a mouse over his right eye. Referee Jimmy Webb and judge Ernie Taylor each had Williams leading by a point going into the tenth round. The tenth turned out to be Machen's best round and it won him a split for his 48th fight.

Both Webb and Taylor gave each man 96 points out of a possible 100 under the 10-point must system. Judge Earl Keel saw it 97-94 for Williams, but the decision went to the majority.

L. M. Butch, Ashville Win

Ashville No. 2 defeated the Third National Bank 14-3 and L. M. Butch edged General Electric 9-8 in Babe Ruth action yesterday.

Nicky Nance paced the Ashville seven hit attack with a triple and a single, scoring two runs.

Ashville hurler Cook limited the Bankers to four hits, all singles. He fanned five and gave up two bases on balls.

The Jewelers collected ten hits from the GE hurler. Gary Leasure. Leasure issued 12 bases on balls.

The losers scored their eight runs on three hits, three Butch errors and 13 walks. Bob Purcell cracked a double and a single for the GE nine. Jerry Cupp, Jim Starkey, and John Wardell had two hits each for the winners.

Palestine Stallion Cops Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Herman Ross of Palestine, Ohio, drove his 4-year-old black stallion Chico Wilson to a 2:04 1-5 clocking that won Scioto Downs' featured seventh race Tuesday night.

Second in the field of C-1 pacers was Peter Rabbit, a length behind the winning favorite. Chico Wilson paid $4.20. Peter Rabbit was worth $6.60 and third-place Winged Guy returned $8.20.

At Yale, where he was a member of the first All-America football team ever selected, Stagg studied for the ministry and pitched baseball—the best collegiate hurler of the era.

Yale won five league championships during Stagg's pitching career and he turned down six offers from major league clubs.

"I gave up professional baseball on principle," he explains today. "There may have been nothing wrong about it, but that didn't make it right for me."

There was a bar in every pro park those days which didn't fit Stagg's principles of living.

He also felt he should teach others rather than exploit his own athletic talents.

Throughout the years, Stagg championed amateur sport, terming it "one of the opportunities which come to a young man, and to me it was a special opportunity."

Stagg and his beloved wife, Stella, have three children, a daughter, Ruth, and two sons, Amos Alonzo Jr., and Paul, both of whom coached football. Since leaving the University of Chicago in 1933 after coaching 41 years and reaching the mandatory retirement age of 70, Stagg and his wife have lived in a modest cottage in Stockton.

Stagg never drank, smoked or swore. On occasion, he might call an erring player a jackass, double jackass or even triple jackass if the offense were serious enough.

University of Chicago players formed a "jackass club," and even the coach's son, Paul, a quarterback for the Maroons from 1929-31, was a member.

"He called me a double jackass once," recalls Paul, now Dr. Stagg and head of the athletic and physical education department at University of the Pacific here. His father came to this school, then known as College of the Pacific, in 1933 after Chicago

Jets Win Two At Richmond

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The International League All-Stars get a chance to show up the big leaguers for the fourth straight year tonight when they face the Baltimore Orioles at Rochester.

A sellout crowd of more than 15,000 is expected for the game, the seventh annual IL All-Star contest.

Veteran Robin Robert (4-3) is expected to start for the Orioles. Lethander Don Rowe of the Columbus Jets (6-5) is the probable starter for the All-Stars.

In Tuesday night's IL action, the Jets took a 7-6, 4-2 doubleheader victory from Richmond, Jacksonville beat Atlanta 4-3, Syracuse edged Toronto 3-2 and Rochester downed Buffalo 9-4.

A three-run homer by Johnny Powers was the big blow for the Jets in the first game.

Bob (Riverboat) Smith pitched a three hitter in the second.

Casper Rated As Favorite In Motor City

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Casper Jr., in the absence of many of golf's touring elite, rates as the favorite of the 11th Motor City Open that starts Thursday.

Casper's long drives are designed to tear par apart on the Knollwood Country Club course in suburban Birmingham. Par is 36-35-71 on the 6,879-yard layout.

But the big reason Casper is the pre-tournament choice is he'll have little top drawer opposition. He's the only one of the year's top five money winners who's entered in the 72-hole, $35,000 event. The other stars—Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player—are in Scotland for the British Open.

Casper is No. 3 on the PGA earnings list, behind Palmer and Littler. The rotund player from Apple Valley, Calif., has three tournament victories in 1962 and has been in the top five money in 10 of his 18 tournaments. Casper has earned $50,458 this year.

Four others among the 10 top money winners will be in the Motor City along with Casper. They are Bob Nichols, Doug Sanders, Bob Goalby and Dow Finsterwald.

Also entered is Bill Collins, winner of the Flint Open last weekend.

The Motor City will start with a field of 144 pros and 12 amateurs. The field will be cut to the low 60 and ties after 36 holes Friday.

Local Ladies Qualify In State Tournament

Mary Carpenter and Erma Hedges are competing in the State Ladies Amateur Tournament at the Kirkwood Country Club in Cleveland today.

Mary qualified for today's third flight with an 18 hole total of 95, and Erma shot a 113 to qualify for the sixth flight.

In 1938, he took the Pacific team to Chicago and whipped the Maroons 32-0.

Stagg remained at COP through 1946, honored by the Football Coaches Association in 1943 as "Coach of the Year" at the age of 81. His club that year beat California, UCLA, St. Mary's and went undefeated until the final game when USC took a one-touch-down decision.

"He called me a double jackass once," recalls Paul, now Dr. Stagg and head of the athletic and physical education department at University of the Pacific here. His father came to this school, then known as College of the Pacific, in 1933 after Chicago

Team 4 won the Ladies Golf League at the Pickaway Country Club with 15½ points. Team 2 coped second with 13 points and Team 3 was third with 11. Team 1 finished with 7½ points.

The Ankrom Lumber Company handed the Lewis Cook Insurance baseball team their first Mosquito League loss in eight starts.

The league leading Insurance nine dropped the contest 3-2.

The Lumbermen tallied two runs in the first inning and scored again in the final frame. The Cook team scored in the second and in the fifth innings.

Rod Kasler paced the winners with two hits in three trips to the plate. Paul Garrison tallied two runs for the Lumbermen.

Ankrom pitchers, limited the losers to one hit, a single by Paul Town, and they whiffed 16 Insurance men.

AL All-Star Game Strategy Doubted as NL Wins by 3-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Second guessers were questioning Manager Ralph Houk's early removal of his starting players in the American League's 3-1 All-Star loss to the National League and wondered today whether he would employ the same tactics in the second midsummer meeting in Chicago's Wrigley Field, Monday, July 30.

Houk's questioned strategy took place in the seventh inning Tuesday when he took Roger Maris, along with three others, out of the lineup and replaced last year's home run king with Chicago's Jim Landis, in center field.

As a result, Landis, a less distinguished long ball hitter, came to bat in the eighth with a man on base and two out. A Maris home run would have tied the game. Landis struck out.

"I thought six innings was about right for Maris," Houk explained in the losers' dressing room later. "I wanted everybody to play. After all, this is an All-Star game. They were picked from their clubs and I think they should have the opportunity to play."

Don Drysdale, the National League starter, struck out Maris in his first time at bat but the major league home run king nearly knocked the ball out of the park in each of his next two turns at bat. Facing Juan Marichal in the fourth, he drove Willie Mays to the center field fence for his 400-foot drive. In the sixth, with Bob Purkey on the mound, Mays made a spectacular catch of Roger's bid for a three-run homer. Wondrous Willie crashed into the fence in deepest right center as he made the leaping catch, his glove reaching above the eight-foot fence.

Rich Rollins, who had singled and gone to third on Billy Moran's single, scampered home after the catch for the Americans' only run. Purkey tossed out Rocky Colavito and fanned Jim Gentile to escape further damage. That was the Americans' last real bid as Bob Shaw held them to one hit in the last two innings.

Mays, the defensive star of the game, shared hero honors with Stan Musial, the ageless wonder, and Maury Wills, the mercury-footed shortstop who hails from the nation's capital.

Mays didn't get a hit but he was tremendous afield. Besides his long runs to haul down blasts by Maris, he cut off a potential run with a fine play on Moran's long single to left center in the sixth, and closed the game with a catch of Luis Aparicio's smash to the fence in deep right center. Musial, who watched Drysdale and Marichal of the Nationals and Jim Bunning and Pascual of the Americans pitch scoreless ball through five innings, came off the bench in the sixth and slashed a pinch hit single to ignite a two-run rally. It was the 20th hit in the 22nd All-Star game for the great St. Louis Cardinal, who before the game had visited President Kennedy's box behind the American League dugout and chatted with the country's No. 1 citizen for a few minutes.

"I reminded the President of our first meeting in the summer of 1960," Musial related later. "Remember," I told him, "you said they thought I was too old to play ball and you were too young to run for president but that we'd both fool them. Well, I think we're both doing pretty good."

Wills, sent in to run for Musial, gave the American League its first taste of his famed speed by stealing second, then scored the first run of the game on Dick Groat's single. Groat advanced to second on Roberto Clemente's third hit, a single to left, reached third on Mays' fly to deep center and scored on Orlando Cepeda's infield out.

Wills was not through. The Dodger speed king who has stolen 46 bases this season, dropped a Texa League single into left off Cleveland's Dick Donovan in the eighth. When Jim Davenport singled to left, Wills tore around second. Colavito, playing left field, threw behind Wills to second base but Maury had picked up speed and continued on to third. Second baseman Bobby Richardson's throw to Brooks Robinson came a fraction of a second too late to nip the diving runner.

Still Wills was not finished. When Felipe Alou fouled out to Leon Wagner along the right field foul line, Wills tagged up and scored, sliding in under catcher John Romano's tag.

"Nobody else would have been able to score on that short fly ball," said National League Coach Johnny Keane.

Marichal, San Francisco's right-handed ace, was the winner. He succeeded Drysdale, who gave up one hit in the first three runless innings, and permitted only a walk in the next two innings.

The loss was charged to Pascual, who allowed four hits and two runs in his three-inning stint. Donovan gave up three hits and the final run in his two innings. Bunning stretched his All-Star runless string to eight consecutive innings, giving up one hit, a double by Clemente in the first. Milt Pappas finished up, retiring three straight batters in the ninth.

Cincinnati Church Is Granted Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee voted Tuesday to void the duty on a cross made in England and presented to Christ Episcopal Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, for its chapel.

Charles P. Taft, senior warden of the church and brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, had written the committee that the church was faced with a 100 per cent duty on the cross, which a parishoner made for the chapel.

Taft said it seemed obvious to him Congress did not intend a duty to apply on such gifts.

The Cincinnati provision was attached to a minor House-passed tariff bill.

Golfing with ALEX MORRISON Teacher of Champions

Proper extension of the left arm can be understood and had simply by pushing palm of left hand against a solid object.

THE GOLFER, holding his muscles entirely to blame for his inferior performances, greatly handicaps himself.

Most faulty physical processes are preceded by incorrect mental processes. This is true about any position or movement any player may try to execute and doubly so about approximations of the Correct Swing Pattern.

Players in the habit of bending the left elbow claim: "I thought my left arm was straight, it felt like it was," or "I don't think I can keep it straight."

I generally have such players give themselves a simple demonstration by using the left arm alone and fully extended to push the palm of the left hand against a solid object.

Then I explain that after getting this clear understanding and definite feel of an extended left arm it cannot be made a regular part of the swing without giving it the proper attention.

It isn't done automatically or instinctively.

Carmichael Paces Amateur

Only 2 Ohioans Able To Break Dayton Par

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Architect Dan Carmichael of Columbus held a two-stroke edge today as the biggest field in the event's history went into the second round of the qualifier for the 56th Ohio Amateur golf championship.

The 43-year-old onetime Princeton basketball captain and World War II naval air ace fired a three-under-par 68 in Tuesday's opening round to lead Dr. Harry Duccilli of Wyoming by two strokes. Duccilli, a 38-year-old baby specialist, was runnerup for the 1959 championship, and Carmichael won the 1961 title.

Old Man Par—he's 71—more than held his own against the big field players. Only Carmichael and Duccilli were able to break par. Matching the card's 71 were Joe Miller Jr. of Hamilton and William Wheeler of Dayton.

The rest of the field of 246 players soared as high as 94. With 63 qualifiers due to join defending champion Walter Stahl in match play starting Thursday, indications were that a score of 155 would make the grade.

Only five players scored 72s. They included such standouts as Tony Blom Jr. of Cincinnati, the 1959 champion, and Don Stickney of Columbus, the Ohio Stater who defeated Jack Nicklaus in the later's fifth futile bid in this fixture several years ago.

Also in the 72 bracket were William Cowgill of Wilmington, William Harding of Salem and Jim Kennedy of Shelby.

Name golfers had varying degrees of success. Stahl shot a 74. Last year's medalist, Robert Seyler of Mansfield, had a 73. So did Bobby Litter of Athen, 1962 Ohio junior champion.

Darkness prevented five players from finishing Tuesday's round, and they had early starting times today to finish the opening session.

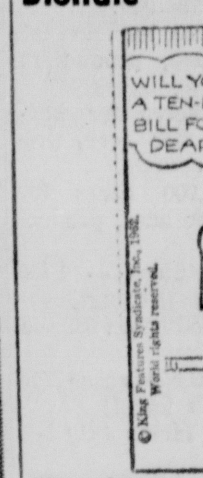

The Ohio Golf Association's board of governors awarded the 1963 Amateur to Elyria Country Club, the Seniors championship to Scioto Country Club of Columbus and the Presenior tournament to Zanesville Country Club.

Don Drysdale, the National League starter, struck out Maris in his first time at bat but the major league home run king nearly knocked the ball out of the park in each of his next two times at bat. Facing Jim Marshall in the fourth, he drove Willie Mays to the center field fence for his 400-foot drive. That was the Americans' last real bid as Bob Shaw held them to one hit in the last two innings.

Mays, the defensive star of the game, shared hero honors with Stan Musial, the ageless wonder, and Maury Wills, the mercury-footed shortstop who hails from the nation's capital.

Mays didn't get a hit but he was tremendous afield. Besides his long runs to haul down blasts by Maris, he cut off a potential run with a fine play on Moran's long single to left center in the sixth, and closed the game with a catch of Luis Aparicio's smash to the fence in deep right center. Musial, who watched Drysdale and Marichal of the Nationals and Jim Bunning and Pascual of the Americans pitch scoreless ball through five innings, came off the bench in the sixth and slashed a pinch hit single to ignite a two-run rally. It was the 20th hit in the 22nd All-Star game for the great St. Louis Cardinal, who before the game had visited President Kennedy's box behind the American League dugout and chatted with the country's No. 1 citizen for a few minutes.

"I reminded the President of our first meeting in the summer of 1960," Musial related later. "Remember," I told him, "you said they thought I was too old to play ball and you were too young to run for president but that we'd both fool them. Well, I think we're both doing pretty good."

Wills, sent in to run for Musial, gave the American League the first taste of his famed speed by stealing second, then scored the first run of the game on Dick Groat's single. Groat advanced to second on Roberto Clemente's third hit, a single to left, reached third on Mays' fly to deep center and scored on Orlando Cepeda's infield out.

Wills was not through. The Dodger speed king who has stolen 46 bases this season, dropped a Texa League single into left off Cleveland's Dick Donovan in the eighth. When Jim Davenport singled to left, Wills tore around second. Colavito, playing left field, threw behind Wills to second base but Maury had picked up speed and continued on to third. Second baseman Bobby Richardson's throw to Brooks Robinson came a fraction of a second too late to nip the diving runner.

Still Wills was not finished. When Felipe Alou fouled out to Leon Wagner along the right field foul line, Wills tagged up and scored, sliding in under catcher John Romano's tag.

"Nobody else would have been able to score on that short fly ball," said National League Coach Johnny Keane.

Marichal, San Francisco's right-handed ace, was the winner. He succeeded Drysdale, who gave up one hit in the first three runless innings, and permitted only a walk in the next two innings.

The loss was charged to Pascual, who allowed four hits and two runs in his three-inning stint. Donovan gave up three hits and the final run in his two innings. Bunning stretched his All-Star

Golfing

with ALEX MORRISON
Teacher of Champions

Proper extension of the left arm can be understood and had simply by pushing palm of left hand against a solid object.

THE GOLFER, holding his muscles entirely to blame for his inferior performances, greatly handicaps himself.

Most faulty physical processes are preceded by incorrect mental processes. This is true about any position or movement any player may try to execute and doubly so about approximations of the Correct Swing Pattern.

Players in the habit of bending the left elbow claim: "I thought my left arm was straight, it felt like it was," or "I don't think I can keep it straight."

I generally have such players give themselves a simple demonstration by using the left arm alone and fully extended to push the palm of the left hand against a solid object.

Then I explain that after getting this clear understanding and definite feel of an extended left arm it cannot be made a regular part of the swing without giving it the proper attention.

It isn't done automatically or instinctively.

Carmichael Paces Amateur

Only 2 Ohioans Able To Break Dayton Par

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Architect Dan Carmichael of Columbus held a two-stroke edge today as the biggest field in the event's history went into the second round of the qualifier for the 56th Ohio Amateur golf championship.

The 43-year-old onetime Princeton basketball captain and World War II naval air ace fired a three-under-par 68 in Tuesday's opening round to lead Dr. Harry Duccilli of Wyoming by two strokes. Duccilli, a 38-year-old baby specialist, was runnerup for the 1959 championship, and Carmichael won the 1961 title.

Old Man Par—he's 71—more than held his own against the big field which included 16 public links players. Only Carmichael and Duccilli were able to break par. Matching the card's 71 were Joe Miller Jr. of Hamilton and William Wheeler of Dayton.

The rest of the field of 246 players soared as high as 94. With 63 qualifiers due to join defending champion Walter Stahl in match play starting Thursday, indications were that a score of 155 would make the grade.

Only five players scored 72s. They included such standouts as Tony Blom Jr. of Cincinnati, the 1959 champion, and Don Stiekney of Columbus, the Ohio Stater who defeated Jack Nicklaus in the later's fifth futile bid in this fixture several years ago.

Also in the 72 bracket were William Cowling of Wilmington, William Harding of Salem and Jim Kennedy of Shelby.

Name golfers had varying degrees of success. Stahl shot a 74. Last year's medalist, Robert Seyler of Mansfield, had a 73. So did Bobby Little of Athen, 1962 Ohio junior champion.

Darkness prevented five players from finishing Tuesday's round, and they had early starting times today to finish the opening session.

The Ohio Golf Association's board of governors awarded the 1963 Amateur to Elyria Country Club, the Seniors championship to Scioto Country Club of Columbus and the Presenior tournament to Zanesville Country Club.

Cincinnati Church Is Granted Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee voted Tuesday to void the duty on a cross made in England and presented to Christ Episcopal Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, for its chapel.

Charles P. Taft, senior warden of the church and brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, had written the committee that the church was faced with a 100 per cent duty on the cross, which a parishoner made for the chapel.

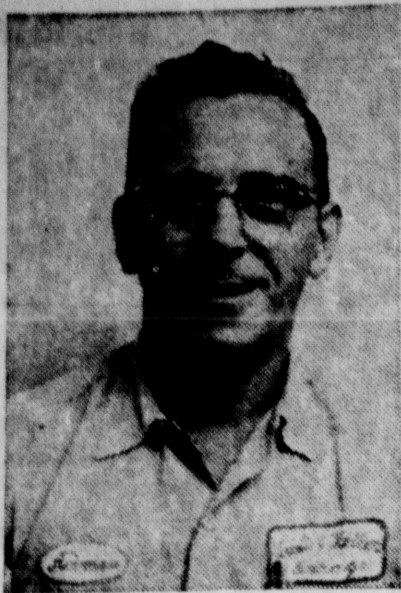

Taft said it seemed obvious to him Congress did not intend a duty to apply on such gifts.

The Cincinnati provision was attached to a minor House-passed tariff bill.
